ALL HOPE IS ABANDONED

Letter From Man on Sevastopol Tells of Port Arthur's Condition.

SAYS IT MUST FALL

Russians Willing to Die But Blame Generals for Letting Japanese Land.

Tokio, Dec. 30.—The navy department published a letter written by a man on board the battleship Sevastopol, which has fallen into the hands of the Japanese. The writer depicts of relief of the fortress and tells of the destruction wrought by Japanese shells. He says the Russian crew resigned to their fate and are determined to fight to a finish rather than suffer the shame of surrendering to starvation. The fortress cannot resist after December. The progress of the enemy in reducing our principal line of outer defense is not fully known, but it is irresistible.

"We are badly disappointed over the non-arrival of the second Pacific squadron and are daily hearing our miserable end."

"General Stokess's so called impregnable line of outer defenses is now a myth. With the 3000 men left, the fall of Port Arthur cannot be avoided. Its capture by the Japanese means the fall of the town, however, strong the other defenses."

"The new town is at the mercy of the enemy's fire. The old town alone is defensible and here alone may resistance be prolonged."

"Two-thirds of the defenders of 3000 men have been killed."

"The Sevastopol which was exposed to the enemy's fire in day time on the night of December 8, without being towed left the harbor with only 111 men and a few guns left."

"When she went out she had her nets down but was struck twice by the enemy's torpedoes and was reached and irreparable damage done."

"Isolation Complete."

"We no longer have wireless telegraph system and have no means of communicating with the outside world. Our isolation is complete."

"There is a large hole in the hull of the Sevastopol and she is completely disabled."

"Should the Sevastopol sink we are and at a place already decided upon. All are, however, prepared to fight to the last."

"From December 1st the enemy's 10-inch shells began to fall on the deck of the Sevastopol and some of them pierced through the decks and to the bottom of the ship."

"Who is Responsible?"

"Who is responsible for the fate we face? It is he who did not give instructions for preventing the Japanese landing on the Liau Tung peninsula."

"Among our officers, there are very few who dare to have death, the majority have to obey orders, but they save their own lives, but we are determined to die fighting."

SOUTH OF SHAKHE

Russians Shell Japs And Receive Only Indifferent Reply.

Shanghai, Dec. 30.—The Russian artillery was engaged in action December 29, against the Japanese south of Shakhé and near the railroad bridge, the firing continuing until six in the evening. The bombardment of the Japanese position was very slow, the Japanese replying very slowly with shrapnel and smoke shells and doing very little damage.

IDOLS OF JAPAN GET OVATION AT TOKIO

Naval Heroes At Home Received With Distinguished Honors.

Tokio, Dec. 31.—Admiral Togo and Vice Admiral Kuroki, with their staffs, arrived this morning. Their journey from Kure to Tokyo was a continuous ovation. The streets were filled with people and the city gaily decorated with flags, lanterns and new year's decorations. The report of the emperor and empress, cabinet members, ministers, prominent Japanese and thousands of school children enthusiastically greeted the report of the naval heroes at the station. The presidents of both houses of the Diet presided over the reception of the recommendation of the respective branches of parliament.

Preceded by band leaders, the party drove under triumphal arches, waving flags and discharging fire works through the cheering crowds, to the palace where Togo and Kuroki were reported to the emperor. They will probably remain in Tokyo a week.

KUROPATKIN NOT ILL

Neither Is He Anticipating a Big Offensive Movement at This Time.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 31.—The war office absolutely denies the report of circulation to the effect that Kuropatkin is ill.

Runners that he is about to assume the offensive are not confirmed by the general staff where it is pointed out that with the thermometer at zero it is impossible to begin a movement on a large scale without risk of appalling horrors.

BIG DRAFT ON RECEIPTS

Leaves Treasury With a Deficit This Year—Panama Chief Cause.

MRS. ELLIOTT IS PLEASED

Says She Knew There Was Something Crooked in Proceedings.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The treasury department today issued a review of the financial operations for the calendar year of 1904. Treasury receipts for the calendar year 1904 were $540,000,000 and expenditures (including Panama payments) $530,000,000, a deficit for the year of $10,000,000. Compared with the previous calendar year, the receipts show a falling off of $8,000,000, and expenditures an increase of $50,000,000. The decrease in customs receipts was $3,000,000. Civil and miscellaneous expenditures increased $15,000,000, war department $3,000,000, navy $23,000,000, pensions $2,000,000, interest $1,000,000.

The increase in interest is due to the fact a portion of the interest of 1903 was anticipated in 1902. Imports for the first eleven months of 1904 were $325,000,000, an increase over the corresponding period of 1903 of $25,000,000. Cash in treasury exclusive of gold reserve and sold and silver coin held against outstanding certificates was $220,000,000 January 1, 1904. All the loans of the year 1904 were $240,000,000. The Panama payment accounts for $30,000,000 of this decrease. Redemption of 5s of 1904 and national bank note redemptions account for $10,000,000 more. The balance is due to deficit incurred in carrying on ordinary operations of the government.

ORIGINAL LODGE BILL

For Reorganization of Consular Service Endorsed by Business League.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—The executive committee of the Chicago Business League met here today and endorsed the original Lodge bill for the reorganization of the consular service of the United States. The league devoted the day to throwing its influence against the short form Lodge and Adams bills now pending in congress, which would, in the opinion of the members of the league, result in a reorganization of the consular service without adding to efficiency of service.

EMPRESS IN DANGER

Augusta Victoria Nearly Run Down by Reckless Driver in Berlin.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—A reckless driver of a heavy truck came near running down the carriage of the Empress Augusta Victoria tonight. He drove toward the carriage through the police line and directly toward the carriage of the empress. The officers barely succeeded in averting a collision. The driver vigorously resisted arrest.

TWO CRUISERS

Reported Detached From Russian Pacific Squadron.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 30.—The report that the cruisers Orel and Izumrud of the second Pacific squadron, have been ordered to return, is current here. The report, however, is not confirmed. The report should prove true, Rojdestvensky may be obliged to await reinforcements from the third Pacific squadron.

BRITISH OFFICER

Went Down With the Japanese Ship Matsue.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 30.—The Associated Press reports from Honolulu that British officer, Captain Glass, of the British navy, was aboard the Japanese ship Matsue, which was sunk recently and was drowned. The presence of a British officer on the ship had not been made public before. The fact at the news now is said to be confirmed.

FALSIFIED BANK BOOKS

Officials of the Conneaut, Ohio, Bank Are Under Arrest.

RUN PUT AN END TO BANK

Officers Allege It Was Due to Rumor They Held Chadwick Papers.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 30.—Cashier Little and President Traver of the Conneaut bank of Conneaut, Ohio, were arrested this afternoon by United States marshals upon a warrant charging them with a violation of the national banking laws, the specific charge in Little's case being the making of a false entry in the books of the bank, charging a sum of $223,695 with being in cash, when it was in fact a loan. The bank closed its doors nearly two weeks ago, after a run upon it the preceding day. The cause of the run the bankers said at the time was that a report had gained currency that Mr. Chadwick had secured heavy loans from it. The bank officials deny holding any Chadwick papers.

Cashier Little and President Traver were held preliminary hearing and were released on $10,000 bail each.

FATAL STREET FIGHT

Chicago, Dec. 30.—During a street fight tonight, Charles Wolack and Henry Rongelstra were fatally stabbed by two other men.

THE FRIENDS OF TALBOT

Are Pleased With Idea That Huntington Signifies Withdrawal.

MRS. ELLIOTT IS PLEASED

Says She Knew There Was Something Crooked in Proceedings.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 30.—Herbert Miller of New York, one of the leading figures in the controversy between Bishop Talbot and Dr. Irvine, who held a secret conference here today on the case, said tonight that intimidation had been practiced in getting the Huntington signers to repudiate the presentment against the bishop. "Friends of Bishop Talbot," he said, "heard an agent at work, and we know who this agent is. We have had detectives on the case, and tomorrow we will make a statement and disclose all the facts to the public."

"We know this agent has done his best work to break the power of the presentment and the repudiations are the result."

"If the Huntington signers do insist upon repudiating the presentment it will not invalidate the instrument which even then would have more signers than are necessary."

SIGNED IN BLANK

W. A. Wilson, another Philadelphia signer, tonight confirmed the statement made by the Huntington signers that they signed a blank sheet of paper but added that all presenters attached their names to the original paper. The signers to the blank sheet, he said, was for the purpose of making another copy of the presentment if one was found necessary.

Opinion is still divided whether the board of trustees, owing to the new canon, will have the right to take up the case. It is now believed that nothing will be done until the board meets January 10, when the members of that body will themselves decide the question.

BISHOP CONSULTS LAWYER

Bishop Talbot held a conference today at Summerville, Pa., with Col. Clement, an attorney who has been close to the bishop all through the trouble. The bishop said, "I have nothing to say, but may be able to give out a statement a little later."

FORMAL REPUDIATION

Will Be Necessary to Make Huntington Step Effective.

Huntington, Pa., Dec. 30.—There is no abatement here in the interest in the controversy between Dr. Irvine and Bishop Talbot. Special interest was taken in the statements of some of the presenters that they had unwittingly signed the presentment.

Mrs. Elliott, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the case, appeared to be pleased when she learned that some of the Huntington signers had repudiated the presentment. She said she "knew there was something wrong about the proceedings."

Harry W. Pelikon, mayor of this city, and one of the witnesses called to the stand in the hearing, and who was attorney for Irvine in the church and civil trials here, says he does not see how the inquiry can proceed if the names of any of the signers are repudiated.

"But that repudiation must be made in a formal statement to the court of inquiry, otherwise the presentment will be null and void," he said.

"There is something strange about the entire proceedings and I am not qualified to express any opinion until I have seen the original papers."

James Donohue declared tonight that Miller had received a telegram from Irvine in which the unfrocked priest, Mr. Miller, had said anything and that he had written each of the presenters a long letter explaining the alleged misrepresentation.

Stripped to action by what they declared was an attempt on the part of Irvine and others to use them in the attack on Bishop Talbot, Langdon and Donohue have started an investigation of the case, and will be even more startling than the presentment itself.

W. G. Miller has been called upon to make explanation of his part in the affair, but so far he has refused.

IRVINE INSISTS

That Signatures of Huntington Persons Were Honestly Secured.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 30.—Dr. Irvine held a conference with Dr. Noble and others at New York, which lasted until after midnight. When Irvine was informed that the Huntington signers persisted in declaring they did not knowingly sign the petition against Talbot, he made the following statement:

"I have no knowledge as to how the signatures of the presentment were obtained. I have certainly misrepresented no feature of the case to any one. I sent the presentment to W. S. Miller of Huntington to obtain signatures of laymen in the city willing to sign the presentment. I have the utmost faith in the honesty, straightforwardness and uprightness of Mr. Miller, and I am sure that he used no dishonorable means to secure the signatures of those men whose names appear upon the presentment."

PRISONER MEASURED

Bertillon System Applied to Mrs. Chadwick by a Government Expert.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30.—Bertillon measurements were taken of Mrs. Chadwick today by the government secret service expert. The purpose of the system is the identification of criminals. When Mrs. Devere was arrested in Lucas county fifteen years ago, she was subjected to the measurements, and those records are on file. The present measurements of Mrs. Chadwick will be compared with the Devere record.

Several matters developed in the Chadwick case today that seem to indicate insanity as her almost certain line of defense. It was learned that Dr. H. C. Eymann, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital for the insane, had examined the woman last Tuesday. Eymann's visit was kept secret at the time.

A BITTER STRUGGLE

Hungary Will Soon Be in Throes of a Bitter Election.

Budapest, Dec. 30.—All arrangements for the dissolution of parliament have been completed and members of the opposition, at length realizing that Premier Tisza will carry out his purpose of appealing to the country, the emperor-king will arrive Monday and the members of parliament will go to the palace Wednesday for the final act of dissolution.

Immediately afterward the government and opposition will engage in what is confidently expected to be the bitterest and most violent election campaign ever seen in Hungary.

Francis Kosuth, son of the famous patriot, who is the leader of the opposition, charges the government with raising $1,750,000 by the sale of titles. Titles of baron have been sold for $125,000 while other ranks of nobility have been disposed of for $12,500.

THE SANTA FE OFFICIALS

Favors in Rates to Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Permitted Control

SOUGHT RUIN OF RIVAL

Allegations of Caledonian Company in Damage Suit Before Commission.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—W. B. Biddle, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe railroad system, testified here today that the railroad company yesterday gave a rebate to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. from the freight paid on coal by the company that often equaled the price of the coal.

When pressed for the reason for doing this, Mr. Biddle contented himself with the statement that it was "for business reasons."

It is very generally understood by those interested in the western coal trade that the rebate was given to the Caledonian Coal Co. out of business, leaving a clear field for the Colorado coal company.

The Caledonian company was first organized by the Santa Fe system to handle the product of the New Mexican coal mines. Later, through the sale of some nearby mines and the formation of an alliance with the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., it sought to throw all of the coal trade to the larger company.

When questioned as to the freight rebates, Mr. Biddle said they were given to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. on the part of the rate makers for the railroad. This mental reservation never came to the notice of the commission.

It is charged that by the violations of the Elkins law through the giving of rebates, the national government is losing $1,000,000 a year. The alleged discrimination was first charged in a suit filed in the federal court at St. Louis by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. against the Santa Fe railroad. This mental reservation never came to the notice of the commission.

At the time this suit was filed the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. was a bankrupt company, and the suit was filed by the trustee, Mr. Roosevelt, but it is not known that he has taken any action in regard to the matter.

The sales of coal controlled by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. through this rebate system is said to have been fully 2000 tons a day.

GLASS WORKS OUT OF BUSINESS

Special to The Herald.

Litchfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—The Finley & Shonfield bottle glass works of this city is closed for perhaps six weeks as a result of the terrific wind storm of Tuesday night.

The wind blew the large smoke-stack down, disabling the plant. Men were ordered to work in an endeavor to put the old one up again, but after getting more than one-half of it up, it was decided to close the plant down and replace it with a new stack.

It is estimated that it will take at least three weeks to get the stack up, making it impossible to start before six weeks.

The company has several good orders but have been unusually up. Late this year, nearly two hundred men at excellent wages were thrown out of employment.

WILL OPEN BALLOT BOXES

And Investigate the Registration Rolls—Both Parties Pleased.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 30.—Stretching its hand so as to cast a shadow over every man and woman who voted in the election of the city and county of Denver on or before or after November 3, the supreme court today ordered an investigation so sweeping in its scope that every phase of the election will be made known by judicial inquiry.

More Than Adams Wanted.

Alva Adams, democratic candidate for governor, who appeared from the returns to have been elected, but who has declared he does not want the office (taunted with fraud, asked the court to open every Denver ballot box, but the order of the court goes beyond the mere examination of the ballot boxes and provides for an investigation of the registration lists, campaign expenditures and, in brief, all election matters.

Lawyers Ordered to Agree.

Attorney Samuel W. Bedford, for Adams, and Attorney J. Hersey, for the republicans, asked the court to make its order of investigation as broad as the court need not stop at anything in the investigation. The court said that was what it meant to do and instructed the lawyers to agree upon the details of the order and present it to the court for approval next Tuesday.

Will Require Months.

As there are 204 ballot boxes it is evident several months will be consumed in examining their contents by hand-writing experts to be appointed for this work.

P. A. Williams, chairman of the republican committee, published a statement in which he declared that approximately 20,000 fraudulent votes were cast for Adams in Denver, and that Peabody and the entire republican ticket were elected by a large majority.

Governor Peabody expresses himself as pleased with the court's action, that in which he declares that approximately 20,000 fraudulent votes were cast for Adams in Denver, and that Peabody and the entire republican ticket were elected by a large majority.

Legislative Action.

What effect, if any, the court's action today will have upon the course of the legislature in respect to canvassing the vote for governor and determining whether Peabody or Adams is entitled to the seat has not become apparent.

Chief Justice Gable, particularly stated that the court's investigation will not be permitted in any way to interfere with any investigation that may be set on foot by the general assembly.

Republicans as well as democrats admit the opening of the Denver boxes complicates the political situation in Colorado, but believe that it means there will be no "rough house" as predicted.

It was announced late today the republican plan to insist democratic senators in which he declared that approximately 20,000 fraudulent votes were cast for Adams in Denver, and that Peabody and the entire republican ticket were elected by a large majority.

It was also reported that on the advice of lawyers, Peabody is preparing to resign.

Street in the Air.

State street is at a loss to understand the meaning of the conference if it does not have an important bearing upon either Standard Oil or Amalgamated Copper affairs. The rumor that Mr. Lawson has engaged passage for himself and family to Europe, where he will recuperate from the strain of crushing the market and buying Standard Oil and Amalgamated, is denied by Mr. Lawson's closest business associates, who say they do not know any plans Mr. Lawson may have for leaving the country.

Scout Stoker Scheme.

A prominent broker said today: "It is quite within the limits of possibilities that these stories as well as others regarding a settlement which is reported to have been made by Mr. H. Rogers with the Boston copper king, are put out by a certain contingent of the bull element that was on the side of the market only a short time ago, but which is desirous of making a quick turn on the upside now, and takes this means to help the move along."

Great Leader is Suffering With An Attack of Pneumonia.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Theodore Thomas, the famous musical director, is seriously ill with pneumonia, and his physicians admitted tonight that they were doing all that was possible to save him.

Dr. Ryland said: "Pneumonia has attacked one lung, but Mr. Thomas has such an excellent constitution that he has at least a chance for recovery."

AT THE BIJOU.

A good bill has been arranged for the Bijou theater this week. The main attraction of the program is the comedy, specially by Fay Coley and Fay which is one of the best black face turns yet introduced at the Bijou.

The San Francisco Times has the following to say regarding this trio:

The Columbia theater, St. Louis, has furnished this act, which came direct from that house to the Interstate circuit. Fay, Coley and Fay, known as the minstrels, gave a hodge-podge of singing, dancing and broad farce humor, interspersed with laughable horseplay of a refined character. Their absurdities belong to the old time minstrel method of entertainment, brought up to the modern satire and joke. One of the clever bits of hyplay in which they indulge is the burlesque of the up-to-date street car conductor, who collects two fares, one for himself and the second for the corporation.

The song sheet is introduced for the divine origin of the family. He said he would rather have his daughter marry a man youthful and inexperienced than have her marry a man rich and rotten.

He said tobacco and whisky both have contributed to the ruin of man's purity and that whisky explains very largely the debauched condition of the negro in the south. The negro was not a factor of danger to the family life of the south until after the war when he got loaded up on whisky.

Let Liquor Alone.

The speaker appealed to men to abstain from liquor and said he was just beginning to what his knife against whisky as he was passing the grindstone and would say something about whisky before leaving town.

For one hour he spoke to the men who sat spellbound by his forceful and eloquent lecture.

After an hour of warnings to men, the evangelist said he had painted a dark picture and would close with the bright picture of motherhood. He then described his training by his mother. He said that he greatest fact in the life of George Washington was his love for his mother.

Had Back Ready.

He asked the men to live up to the mother-line of life. Nearly every man in the audience came forward when he asked them to advance and shake hands on the proposition of leading a better life and receiving a book.

Dr. Culpepper had a collection of little books for men only and these were distributed. He said he would not sell anything on Sunday but he had a hat ready and said anyone who cared to could drop a coin in the hat, anything from a dollar to a dime.

ASKED TO HELP REVIVAL.

Women Requested Not to Say Anything Against It.

The main floor of the auditorium of the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon was filled to its capacity with young and old ladies to hear Rev. W. N. Conoley. The text was taken from the 11th Chapter of John, 28th verse, "The Master is come and calleth thee."

The theme of the sermon was to show the attitude of the people toward the present revival. At the conclusion of the sermon Mr. Conoley asked that everyone who was willing to promise not to say or do anything to impede the work and to do what they could to help to come by and shake hands with him, nearly every one in the church came forward.

Rev. Burke Culpepper after leading the young people's meeting at the Congregational church, returned to the temple to lead the choir in a song or two and then went to the Congregational church to preach at the overflow meeting.

The evangelist, John R. Culpepper, made a plea for several business men to come forward and give enough money to put up a $500 tabernacle to accommodate the crowds who want to come to the meetings. The greatest crowd yet seen thronged the temple to hear him preach. He said: "We ought to have 100 conversions in this meeting and will if all get to work. Everything is coming our way as you can see."

The speaker showed how prosperity had destroyed the spiritual life of the people and said that prosperity does not help people. The more people get the less they give in proportion. A fellow that's got a dollar can give a quarter easier than he who has $100.00 can give $10.00. A man who never has any adversity is too often arrogant. He rarely knows how to be otherwise. Men have never thought who do not believe in hell. They have not looked facts in the face.

Among other things the speaker said: "If a railroad man, were dying and called on his fellow worker to tell him how to prepare to meet God, that fellow would know how to point the way from what he had learned in childhood about this matter. You all know how to prepare. You have no excuse. You cannot plead ignorance. Prepare to meet God."

The evangelist gave a thrilling description of the Galveston flood to illustrate the way men are swept suddenly, unprepared, to judgment.

At the close of the evangelist's sermon an invitation was given to all who desired prayer to raise their hands. Many hands went up. Afterward several came forward and gave their names as having decided to connect themselves with church life.

A big aftermeeting was held. Fifteen professed conversions at the Congregational church and twenty-four at the overflow meeting.

FIVE MEETINGS HELD SUNDAY

Dr. Culpepper Speaks to Men and Mr. Conoley to the Women.

ATTENDANCE IS GOOD.

Overflow Meeting Is Held at Congregational Church.

Dr. Culpepper talked to a crowded house Sunday afternoon. The meeting was for men and all available space in the tabernacle was occupied.

These men represented almost every calling in life—doctors, lawyers, merchants, railway men, clerks, mechanics, and day laborers composing the congregation. There were not half a dozen boys in the crowd.

Rev. Burke Culpepper was at his post and had the men singing early. A company of fifty men composed the choir. The men sang enthusiastically such songs as "Sweet Bye and Bye" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

The evangelist spoke of the divine origin of the family. He said he would rather have his daughter marry a man youthful and inexperienced than have her marry a man rich and rotten.

He said tobacco and whisky both have contributed to the ruin of man's purity and that whisky explains very largely the debauched condition of the negro in the south. The negro was not a factor of danger to the family life of the south until after the war when he got loaded up on whisky.

POLICE SPOIL SUNDAY GAME

Sixteen Young Men Arrested for Gambling On East Main.

ALL GAVE A BOND.

James Keith Was Charged With Being Keeper.

"Fellers, we've pinched!" yelled one of a crowd of sixteen young fellows gathered in a house on East Main street where was found some gambling apparatus. The bunch looked up and saw the forms of five burly policemen standing in and about the door way. Then they tried to scatter, but it was no use. One or two escaped but the rest took a ride in a blue wagon with red wheels and rubber tires.

The police made a raid Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on a house owned by Mrs. Brown in the 800 block on East Main street. The lower part of the place is rented by James Keith and in this he has been running a boarding house and a gambling room.

Was Suspected.

It has been known to the police for some little time that Keith was running a gambling room there, and several warrants for his arrest had been sworn out. But the police thought they would rather wait and catch the whole bunch right in the thick of a good game. Through one of their many sources, they got the tip that there was a game on during the afternoon and five policemen, Peatty, Dunnigan, Morton, Keck, and Muthersbaugh, were dispatched to the house to pinch the bunch.

The entire gang was brought to police headquarters to which place Justice McCoy was called. Keith was the first called upon to produce bond and he did so with $27.50. The next was Charles Nation who amused the crowd by giving the name, "Charlie Nation." Justice McCoy told him that was a good name—too good to work with him. The rest of the fellows gave bonds in the sum of $12.50 each.

She Did Not Know.

Mrs. Brown, the lady who owns the house, in speaking of the matter said to the police that she had repeatedly given Keith notice to move out and that once she had served a notice on him to that effect. He seemed not to be in a moving disposition and would not get out.

When asked if she knew of the presence of the gambling she said that she did not and had never suspected that such a thing was being carried on in her house.

Two padded tables and a large box of poker chips were taken from the house and are now in the police station. The sixteen men who were captured in the joint were taken to police headquarters where Justice McCoy was called and made out the bonds. They were released Tuesday and part on Wednesday, after their hearings before Justice McCoy.

1905 POULTRY TRADE

At New York Shows Some Enormous Totals.

When on the first of the current month Max Atlas finished the work of filling some special contracts, having in forty-five days shipped from this city over 500,000 pounds of dressed poultry, comment was made to the effect that he had had a heavy business for it had averaged more than $1000 a day. At the time Mr. Atlas said that his shipments were as a drop in the bucket and that if his twenty-six cars of dressed poultry had not been sent to the eastern markets they would not have been missed. That then seemed a bit overdrawn. The business seemed enormous here but when compared with the totals furnished in New York city they are small indeed. Here are some figures:

The New York Produce Review, a trade paper, has just published the statistics for the year 1905, covering everything in the produce market showing the receipts at the New York market.

to Big Audience Wednesday Night.

Tuscola, Ill., May 17.—Mrs. Suessa Blaine, national lecturer of the W.C.T.U., was in Tuscola on Wednesday evening, giving a lecture on "Temperance Victories and Opportunities." She was introduced by Miss Blanche Caraway, one of the vice presidents of the Tuscola Auxiliary, and held the closest attention of her hearers during the hour she spoke. She talked more of the outside for prohibition, only touching on the retrospective view, and all that she said was replete with encouragement for the ultimate and not very distant overthrow of the great evil. She gave a bit of current up-to-date news in the way of statistics she stated the fact that out of the 1,848 cities, towns and villages in the state of Tennessee, all are "dry," so the state is regarded as a liquor is concerned, save four, and of the 119 counties in Kentucky, the home of the moonshiner, 95 are dry. Mrs. Blaine then discussed the work of the local organization and its friends in a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. B. Walmsley, on "Legislative and Political Work," and told of many victories won by the women, along these lines. Mrs. Blaine is well informed in these matters, as she has been a factor in national legislative committees for several years, and is able to present information in a clear and convincing way, enlightening her hearers.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, nervousness, dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily started or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, or if the treatment, weakness and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not run fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in this case as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the very best medicine for the treatment of all the above named symptoms, and is known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or any other drug is a factor in its composition. The ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. These must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles, will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will, if used as directed, taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and securely guarded. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 51 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

GRADUATION NIGHT AT ILLIOPOLIS A SUCCESS

Entertaining Program and Elegant Decorations Mark Occasion.

Illioopolis Ill. May 17.—The seventh annual commencement of the Illioopolis high school was held in the Masonic hall, the first evening. It was a continuous round of successes and every one of the immense audience was more than pleased. The class of 1907 was composed of one young lady and one young man, who earned and received an honor that will be remembered with honest pride throughout all the years of usefulness before its members. The members of the class were John H. Maxwell and Miss Gretchen Chiles Sims.

The stage was uniquely decorated with the class colors, crimson and gold, and palms, ferns and flowers were used in great profusion. Overhead the words "Class of 07" in the crimson and gold showed in prominence.

At 8 o'clock Miss June Myers took her seat at the piano and rendered a recital of instrumental music, consisting of the following numbers: "Giant Dance" (Chaminade), "Gondoliers" (Nevin), "Congoz Amore" (Nevin), "Festive March" (Chabrier de Rontsch).

Salutatory Address. The next on the program was a pretty little solo, "Tenets of the Witches" by Miss Bonnie Sims, elder sister of the valedictorian, which was well sung and received much applause. Miss Sims was accompanied at the piano by Miss June Myers.

The salutatory address on the subject "Wanted a Man," by John Maxwell was a good oration and was well delivered in a distinct and entertaining manner.

The instrumental duet by Misses Gertrude Smith and Emma Metcalf was well rendered and a very pretty selection. Miss Smith is a musician of rare ability and one of which Illioopolis has long been proud, and Miss Metcalf, one of her pupils is making rapid strides in acquiring a good musical education.

The oration entitled "Air Castles," by Miss Gretchen Chiles Sims who was valedictorian of the class, was well prepared and splendidly delivered. Miss Sims has a splendid voice and had a sweet and entertaining way of holding the large audience spell bound.

Listening to the theme which has taken up much of her time of late and which has received the best of preparation. She was attired in a pretty, charming graduating dress of cream silk and wool trimmed in lovely cream tulle and carried ten roses—the class flower.

Miss Ethel Shrewsbury sang two pretty selections, viz "Love is a Song," and "When the Wild Rose Blows," in a charming and highly cultivated voice.

Miss Clara Allison of Decatur played the piano accompaniment for both selections, which were highly appreciated. The reading by Mrs. B. J. Dorell, who is a aunt of the young lady graduate, was a fine selection and a rare treat as Mrs. Dorell is an eloquent of rare ability and central Illinois known.

Her selection was greatly enjoyed by every one present. Dr. J. W. Mayes, president of the board of education, presented the diplomas to the two graduates in a pleasing, well worded speech, which he is so very capable of doing.

Many beautiful and expensive gifts were received by the graduates, consisting of fine books, jewelry, money, fine china, novelties and spoons.

Band and Given Graduates. Thursday evening the Illioopolis high school was "at home" to the graduates, teachers, members of the board of education and their wives and the ex-graduates of the school, at the Masonic reception and banquet hall which is directly above the opera house, and the event is one that will live long in the memories of those who were permitted to attend this social function.

The evening was spent in a social way, a part of the time being taken up with games and music and last but not least, dainty refreshments, consisting of a variety of cake, lemonade and ice cream in both crimson and gold, the class colors, were daintily served in the banquet hall.

L. G. Metcalf acted as toastmaster for the occasion, and short talks also were made by Dr. J. W. D. Mayes, president of the board of education, Professor H. H. Kirkpatrick and Miss Bernice Nelson. Those present, including a large number of townspeople, departed for their various homes at a late hour, wishing that all good gifts might fall to the lot of the graduates, and declaring "the members of the Illioopolis high school up to date and jolly entertainers."

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, the Kidneys as well, have their controlling, or inside, nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free Book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative. NEGROES ON INTERURBAN SPECIAL MADE THINGS HUM. At 2:15 o'clock Friday morning a car load of the colored population of Springfield arrived home on a special interurban car from Decatur, where they had been attending a female negro minstrel show.

They had, some of them, become so highly elated by the sights they had seen that they were unable to hold their joyful feelings, and some who had been imbibing in fire water in the interurban city east of here, proceeded to make noises much to the annoyance of sleepers in the vicinity.

One big burly negro pulled out of his pocket a revolver, and feeling very good and in fine spirits, blazed away with all his might. The report was heard in the business district of the city, and caused much excitement. The negroes were raising a large sized rumpus a short time later, without respect to the ones who lived in the neighborhood or for anybody else. All were able to make their get-away without police interference, even though they made a very disagreeable celebration with fire water and fire arms.

Arfield Flings at Theatrical Trust

Declares Art is One Thing That Commercialism Cannot Absorb.

New York, Sept. 25.—Theatrical art may own brick and mortar, but David Warfield, who is playing 'side of the combination' but art I continue to stand alone. It is the thing that commercialism cannot absorb. The fact that doors of certain playhouses are barred doors does prevent a play from being given some other place of amusement. People who want to see a play will not pay away for the reason that it is billed for some particular theatre.

Mr. Warfield, when asked as to the question of the dramatic critics that will become successor to Mansfield, said: "I have no such ambition on my other hand it is my desire to have a successor for that the art feller imitates me."

Mr. Warfield is rehearsing his new play, "A Grand Army Man," preparatory to beginning the season in New York, Oct. 21. Subsequently, the new play will return to New York to the new theatre, which is undergoing the finishing touches.

Again and again the girls ducked him, and then driving out, one held him firmly with the other a miniature of a good girl. A crowd of words of encouragement.

"Gladman Vector called the patrol and Kapuska was bundled off the police station while the girls at home."

It Will Work From Springfield Road Northeast

The trenching machine which Contractor Thompson is to use on the Sewer and sewer after two weeks on the road from Iowa has reached Decatur and is being set up at the point where the sewer will cross the Springfield road.

There is before the trencher from that point northeast a long stretch where there may be no interference from the causes common within the city limits—water pipes, etc. and if the soil is favorable the work may be pushed with good results along that portion of the sewer route. That is true of the line all the way northeast to the point where the sewer will cross the right-of-way of the line of the Wabash, leading to Springfield—at VanDyke street.

"WHAT WITCH?"

A Husband's Question.

When a man from drinking coffee, gets to such a condition that he cannot eat breakfast without throwing it up it seems time to quit, but there are thousands of people who do not understand that when an article of food or drink produces such conditions as these it should be absolutely left off.

A little woman out in Montana writes that she and her husband knew enough to quit coffee when it had raged them badly. She says: "My husband was so badly affected that he ate no breakfast for three or four years. He would offer to try to drink a few sips of coffee and invariably threw it up."

When Postum Food Coffee was brought to my attention I tried it without having any faith in it but when I found what a delicious beverage it was when prepared according to directions and from trying it on myself found there were no bad effects. I induced husband to take a cup without telling him what it was. He objected at first saying that it would be sure to throw it up, but when I insisted upon his trying it, it agreed with him.

Morning after morning I gave him Postum without telling him that it was any different from ordinary coffee. His stomach quickly recovered and he began to eat breakfast. He asked me one morning as he called for a second cup what witch had taught me to make such delicious coffee, and where I found some that would agree with him. Then I told him for the first time that he had not been drinking coffee but Postum, which had so strengthened his stomach that he could now eat as much breakfast as any one.

"My two sisters were badly troubled with stomach disorder but after leaving off coffee and taking Postum they both recovered their appetites and took on considerable flesh. I wish everyone could be induced to use the health-giving, aromatic Postum." There's a Reason. Read "The Road to Well-being" at once.

about town are down on the new telephone deal, they hate to see the "hallo" still go, but such is the edict of the latest in science.

The girls of the big, useful telephone exchanges must go with all their long, sweet temper, bad dispositions, delays, they must be left to the busy past and 100 years hence they will be a piece of the world's history. The automatic is at hand and in the modern future many a gray haired granddame will lie down like a burden pick up her harp and crown and have it recorded in the obituary notice in the local papers, probably automatically conducted then, that many years ago this woman was an operator in a thing called a telephone exchange, but when it passed out of existence married, raised a large family of children, joined the corner and at the time of her departure was president of the frictionless foreign missionary society.

New Used in Chicago.

The automatic system is widely used at the present time. The Illinois Telephone Company in Chicago is operating such a switch as will be used by the Home Telephone Company in Decatur. Eight thousand subscribers use this phone in the largest city in Illinois. The system is gaining popularity every day in Chicago and the number of phones of this character being put in is on the increase each day.

In Los Angeles, Cal., there was a manually operated exchange of 5,000 phones. The Home Telephone Company of that city changed the system to an automatic switch such as will be used in Decatur. During the past year that company in California has put in 12,000 automatic phones.

It is the same old story all along down the line. The automatic is being installed in all up-to-date cities. Dayton, O.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Columbus, O.; Lincoln, Neb.; Battle Creek, Mich.; Mt. Olive, Ill.; Pontiac, Ill.; South Bend, Ind., and many other towns have it.

Manhole a Big Cave.

Work is being pushed along as rapidly as possible towards the day when the new system can be installed by the Home Telephone Company. The conduits are being laid with great speed. The largest manhole in the city has been completed behind the site of the new exchange in the alley for Main and Church streets. This manhole is sixteen feet long, nine feet wide and twelve feet deep and in it there is plenty of room to work.

The method of insulating the cables into the conduits is interesting to one who knows nothing of such an engineering feat. A jointed rod is pushed through the conduit from one manhole to another and to the end of this is attached a rope which follows the rod. When the rope is pulled through the cable containing the telephone wires is drawn on into the conduit. It is not a difficult operation at any time to remove a cable or a section of it for repairs, although this is seldom necessary.

D. R. Craig, constructing engineer for the Hawley & Chandler company is in charge of the work of putting in underground cables and is also engineer for the Home Telephone company. He will appear for the Home people in installing the automatic exchange, although it is to be put in by the people who manufacture this equipment.

The new automatic exchange will be installed as early in the spring of 1908 as it is possible to get at it.

THE OUTING MAGAZINE

OCTOBER

Is on sale on every news stand in your city

The wholesome, hopeful, national magazine of the American outdoors. Its articles have the grip of personal experience. Its fiction is the best contemporary American literature. Its facts are accurate and authoritative. Its artistic beauty is unexcelled.

The October number contains:

- THE WAY OF A MAN, by EMERSON HOUGH. This serial is generally conceded to be the greatest novel of the year.
- THE COUNTRY FAIR, by DAVID LANSING, in which the author recalls the old country fair as it used to be.
- BALLOONING AND AERIAL NAVIGATION, by F. P. LAHN, U.S.A., being an outline of the immense and practical air ships could render to science and to nations in war.
- YARNS OF THE FORWARD DECK, by VANCE THOMPSON; being a bunch of yarns unsketched by a congenial party on board an ocean liner.
- ROUND UP DAYS, by STEWART EDWARD WHITE, will take the reader away from the noise and bustle of the city to the plains.
- GENERAL ISAAC SHELBY, FIRST GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY, by LYNN TEW SPRAGUE. One of a series of articles retelling American history in the form of vivid personal sketches.

And a dozen other features of interest with photographs of a score of divers scenes, supplemented by a liberal proportion of paintings and drawings.

There is no decrying the intensity or the diversity of interest that pervades, not only this but every number of THE OUTING MAGAZINE.

Non-Commissioned Officer's School.

Captain Mulkey of Company H, I. N. G., has received an order to the effect that during the month of October such company in the Fifth regiment will hold a non-commissioned officers' school preparatory to an examination which will be held on Nov. 1 on questions furnished from Adjutant General Scott's headquarters. The commanding officer of each company will examine the tests and will send the one with the highest grade to the adjutant's headquarters. The paper chosen will be recorded and a five-dollar gold piece will be offered as a prize to the officer that passes the best examination.

Corporal Howard Blaine has been reduced to the ranks for disobedience of orders.

Would Barry Daughter in Box.

Abraham Baker, who conducts a grocery and meat market in Springfield for orthodox Jews, attempted to bury the body of his 2-year-old daughter in a common plot last Thursday, but was apprehended by officers before he reached the cemetery. The child died Thursday morning as the result of burns received from a gasoline stove. The intentions of the father were probably all right but the customs of this country would not permit such an affair. The body was returned to an undertaking establishment and given proper burial.

Yester's Mine a Blank.

George Youle, who was lost at Florida about thirty-six hours last week and was thought to be in hiding in Decatur, was taken to his home at Saybrook Thursday evening and is in his usual health. His mind, however, remains a blank during the time his children were searching for him and up to the present time has given no account of his wanderings or what prompted him to disappear.

RULES ADOPTED BY STATE PURE FOOD COMMISSION

The work of the State Food Commission is in its incipient and experimental stage. Many of the questions presented for consideration are new to the Commissioner, and the duties of his office lie largely outside of his accustomed lines of thought and action. The law has wisely provided that one of his assistants shall be "a practical and analytical chemist," and the other "an expert in the matter of dairy products." He must necessarily rely on such assistants for that technical knowledge which is required in the administration of the food laws of the state.

By their advice and assistance the following rules have been adopted and are published for general information. Some of these rules have already been adopted in other states, and are adopted in this state until such time as experience may demonstrate the necessity of their change or abrogation.

All milk offered for sale must be from healthy cows of clean and wholesome character, unadulterated, free from preservative, and must contain not less than 8 per cent of butter fat, must have the words "an unsweetened condensed milk," printed conspicuously on the front part of the label.

Condensed milk must not have less than 25 per cent butter fat.

Condensed skim milk must be plainly labeled as such.

Process or renovated and imitation butter must not be marked and sold as "creamery" or "dairy," but each should be marked plainly with its own name.

Oleomargarine, butterine, renovated and imitation butter can be manufactured and sold under their appropriate names and color when appropriately labeled. Each tub, package or parcel shall have distinctly and durably printed, stamped or marked thereon the true and appropriate name of such substance in ordinary bold-faced capital letters, not less than five lines high.

"Whole milk" cheese, commonly mislabeled "full cream" cheese, must contain at least 58 per cent of fat to total solids.

Butter shall contain at least 80 per cent of fat.

"Coffee cream" shall contain at least 15 per cent fat, and "whipping cream" at least 22 per cent.

The term "vinegar" is limited to water solution of acetic acid derived from alcohol by fermentation, containing not less than 4 per cent of absolute acetic acid carrying in solution, if undistilled, extractives from the fruit, grain, vegetable or syrup used in their preparation.

All vinegar must be labeled and sold under its true name as determined by its derivation. Distilled or fermented vinegar may be reduced with water to legal requirements, but one variety of vinegar shall not be fortified or reduced with another.

Undistilled vinegar made from an infusion of mixed grains may be labeled grain or beer vinegar. Malt vinegar must be made entirely from an infusion of malted grains.

Honey vinegar, if shown by analysis to be prepared exclusively from diluted honey, need not reach requirements in solids and ash demanded in other undistilled vinegars.

Coffee must be true in name. It must not be coated or polished to conceal inferiority. Imitations containing no coffee can not be sold as coffee compounds, but may be sold under various names. Compounds of coffee and chicory or of coffee and any other harmless substitute allied to it in either flavor or strength, and not used simply as an adulterant, may be sold when labeled "Coffee Compound."

Syrup is a product of either corn or sugar cane. When made from sugar cane it is called cane syrup, when made from corn it is glucose syrup. There is little difference in the food value of these syrups. It is questionable whether or not one could not be considered an adulterant of the other, as each falls within the true definition of a syrup, as both the mild Rio and the strong Mocha are each true syrups. The sale of glucose syrup as cane syrup, is a fraud and a violation of the law. The sale of a mixture of glucose and cane syrups without other label than that of the general term "syrup" is permitted. Molecules containing glucose must be labeled glucose mixture, as the value of molasses is dependent upon a pungent flavor peculiar to itself, and not found in glucose syrup.

Maple sugar and syrup must be true to name. A compound of cane or beet sugar with maple sugar can be sold when labeled compound, as the chief element of value in maple sugar is the maple flavor, and not the sugar. Another sugar is for the sole purpose of cheapening the article, and is a clear case of adulteration.

Wheat flour mixed with corn flour may be sold when labeled "Compound Flour" or "Compound Wheat Flour." Buckwheat flour may be mixed with other flour and sold as "Compound Buckwheat Flour." Self-rising buckwheat flour must be so labeled.

Rye flour if not absolutely pure, must be marked "Compound Rye Flour."

Imitation jellies, fruit butter and preserves may be colored with a harmless coloring, provided they are labeled "imitation jelly, colored," and free from all ingredients deleterious to health.

Honey adulterated with glucose or any other substance not deleterious to health may be sold when labeled "Adulterated Honey."

Dry mustard must be pure.

Prepared mustard must be free from starch or adulterant of any kind, and, if consisting of mustard, vinegar and spices, may be sold when labeled "Prepared Mustard."

A preparation of mustard, vinegar, spices, and enough filling of starch to make a mustard of mild flavor to meet a legitimate demand which undoubtedly exists, may be sold when labeled "Prepared Mustard Compound." Harmless coloring may be used in preparations of mustard only to secure uniformity of appearance.

All spices must be pure. Any mixture of any foreign article with any spice is an adulteration. An adulteration of spices can not be remedied by the label "Compound."

Catsup must not contain preservatives deleterious to health.

Cream of tartar must be pure. All compounds are unlawful.

Candy must be free from inert mineral matters, and not colored with substances deleterious to health.

Canned goods must be labeled with grade or quality of the goods and the name and address of the seller or manufacturer.

Artificial extracts can be manufactured and sold only in cases where it is not possible to produce an extract from the fruit itself. Extracts of this class must be labeled "Artificial Extracts."

Lemon extract shall consist of the pure oil of lemon dissolved in alcohol. Harmless coloring matter will be permitted. The sale of compound lemon extracts is prohibited.

Vanilla extract shall be made wholly from vanilla beans, and shall contain no artificial coloring. The color of a vanilla extract is an indication of its strength, coloring in such cases would be used for the purpose of concealing inferiority, and of making the article appear better than it really is.

When other flavoring substances are used, such as Vanillin, Coumarin or Tonka, the extract should be labeled as such, and show the true character, as "Compound Extract of Tonka and Vanillin." The label "Compound Extract of Vanilla," will not be deemed sufficient notice to the composition of the article.

All baking powder sold in the state must be labeled in a conspicuous way and place, with the name signifying the class or variety to which it belongs based on the name of the acid ingredient; thus, for example: "This is an acid phosphate powder; an alum phosphate baking powder; a phosphate baking powder; a cream of tartar baking powder." Potassium acid sulphate is regarded as unwholesome, if not injurious, and its use in any article of food is prohibited.

Whenever the words "artificial," "imitation," "compound," etc., are required, these words must be printed immediately preceding or following the word which they modify, in the same size type and equally prominent. Thus: "Imitation Current Jelly," or (colored) "Coffee Compound."

PROVES HIS CLAIM AND RENTS FARM

D. A. Reeme Returns After Three Years in Oklahoma.

D. A. Reeme has returned home after three years in Beaver county, Okla., where he has proved up a claim of 160 acres and, having secured perfect title to his property, he has leased it for a term of three years.

Mr. Reeme is enthusiastic in his appreciation of that country and insists that the farm land there is equal to any thing that is offered in Marion county so far as soil and climatic advantages are concerned.

During his residence there he made little pretense at farming beyond producing only so much as was necessary for his personal wants, but he says that his neighbors who did venture were well pleased with the results. In that section there are a number of former Marion county residents and all of them are satisfied with their ventures.

Mr. Reeme had a small patch of corn and he says that in ninety-one days from the time that it was planted in June, he gathered perfectly matured ears of corn. In addition to the meal shipped by express, for three weeks everyday there was shipped from Hooker, two car loads of cantaloupes and the men who were in the business of growing them declare that the returns were gratifying.

The farm entered by Mr. Reeme is twenty miles from market, but he says that its market value at present is at least $2,000. A railroad building through that county will touch his farm.

which befell their half-sisters, Mercedes Henshaw and Dunning.

The ladies live in Kentucky and with the son of Mrs. Henshaw were en route to Arizona, near Topeka, Kan., they were in a railroad wreck. The letter from Taylorville, giving no details, said that Mrs. Henshaw was almost killed and was still in a hospital at Topeka. The other members of the party while severely injured are not now in any danger.

The news of the accident came in a round-about way, first going to the Kentucky home of the ladies and thence to Taylorville and Decatur.

LEFTY LIEFIELD TOO MUCH FOR THE GIANTS

Even the Mighty Mike Donlin Fails to Solve His Pitching.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—After their double defeat yesterday the Pirates returned strong today and defeated the Giants in ten innings. Lefty Liefield pitched splendidly when the local batters on bases. Twice Donlin had a chance to drive in runs to win with a hit, but was unable to get a safety off the Pittsburgh man. A big crowd saw the game. The score: R. H. E. New York 000001000—2 8 2 Pittsburgh 000000000—1 1 1

Batteries—Ames, Grandall and Bresnahan; Liefield and Gibson.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Chappelle's wildness and costly errors lost for the locals. The score: R. H. E. Boston 000100000—5 4 4 Cincinnati 000100010—6 7 5

Batteries—Chappelle, Mattson and Graham; Spade, Rowan and McLean.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 12.—McCluskey's tail-enders took two games from the locals. The scores of the first: R. H. E. Brooklyn 000000000—1 1 1 St. Louis 000000000—0 3 0

Batteries—McIntyre, Holmes, Pastorek, Dunn and Farmer; Higginbotham, Raymond and Bliss.

TRAVIS HOLDS HIS TITLE.

Champion Finds Behr Easy in Final Golf Match.

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 12.—J. D. Travers of Montclair, N. J., still is amateur golf champion of America. After reaching the final stage by a brilliant victory over the veteran former champion, Walter J. Travis yesterday in what was pronounced one of the greatest games ever witnessed in this country, the champion today scored comparatively an easy win over Max H. Behr of the Morris county club.

The men played practically on even terms during the early stage of today's decisive match, but on the second round of eighteen holes Travers had all the best of it and the end came at the twenty-ninth hole, when the champion was 8 up on his opponent with only 7 holes left to play.

Coney Wins Chicago Marathon.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The annual Marathon race today was won by A. L. Coney of Chicago, unattached, in 2 hours, 57 minutes and 38 seconds. One minute behind him came Sidney Hatch of the Illinois Athletic club, while the third man was J. A. Felton of Chicago, unattached. Felton's time was 3 hours and 12 minutes.

His Place in Big League.

It is interesting to know that Springfield wants no salary limit and that Kinella will oppose any president suggested for the purpose of enforcing one. We will look about and see in a vacancy can't be found in one of the big leagues for the slot city.

Sam McVey a Winner.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Sam McVey of California knocked out Harry Shearing of England by a stiff right in the heart in the first round tonight of a scheduled twenty-round fight. The match was for an purse of $2,000 and the title of champion of Europe.

WRONG FOOD Causes World of Trouble.

If we only realized it, we are the principal cause of our own misfortune, and eating improper food is a large factor in the make-up.

By giving a little thought to the question of what we ought and ought not to eat, we can make things much more pleasant for ourselves and others.

"Some time ago I was in the habit of eating buckwheat cakes, sausage, fried potatoes and coffee for breakfast," writes a New York lady.

"I was troubled with headache and indigestion, but thought medicine would relieve me. Finally I saw my mistake and made up my mind that the cause of my trouble was in the food I was eating.

"About this time I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in our paper, and I began to eat it with cream for breakfast and to drink Postum instead of coffee.

"I not only found them delicious but they corrected the headache and indigestion, and I feel like a new person. My mind is clearer, nerves steady, my step has spring in it and I feel like singing all the time." "There's a Reason."

BLOOMINGTON MAN FRAMES UP A CIRCUIT

He Also Names It the Mississippi Valley League and Fixes Dates.

One man's guess is as good as another these days and all are about equally interesting. The Bloomington Pantagraph man has tried his hand at it. He concludes the Three-I and the Central association magnates will meet in joint session at Davenport Oct. 1, divide up the territory and then adjourn to later dates when the new groups will meet to form their permanent organizations and make plans for the next season.

According to his idea this will be the result of the split up:

Three-I league will get: Quincy, Decatur, Bloomington, Davenport, Rock Island, Springfield, Peoria, Danville.

The Central association will get: Cedar Rapids, Waterloo, Dubuque, Ottumwa, Burlington, Oskaloosa, Clinton, Keokuk.

This would leave Jacksonville and Kewanee of the present Central association to join cities now in the Illinois-Missouri league.

The Bloomington man would call the new organization that will replace the present Three-I by the name of Mississippi Valley league. He doesn't mention it, but he will probably have Ed Holland president of the organization.

BOMAR HOME FROM WEST.

Lacks a Lot of Bolog in Love With Des Moines.

Charley Bomar reached town yesterday from Des Moines, where he played the season, and to his friends he unburdened himself somewhat of the Western league. He says it could not be in the heart of any ball player to play with a winning spirit for the Des Moines management and he confesses it had its effect on his work. Bomar won three games he pitched, he lost count of those he lost. In the outfield he played in thirty-five games and stood high in his batting average.

He played in one game against Rusty Owens and laughs as he tells of getting three hits off the old sorrel top.

Bomar describes the method of the Des Moines manager as something like this toward players. He was told one day: "You pitch today and if you lose you are suspended." Charley pitched; his team did not make a run and he lost 7 to 0. He did not say if the threat of suspension held.

Bomar says the Western does not play near the ball the Three-I does and points to the work of Rusty Owens and Birdie King in that organization as proof. Both were considered very fast. Neither did Bomar think Decatur lost much in Art Penlon. He can't see how a player who failed to shine in the Western could make good in the Three-I league.

Bomar may take a trip to his old home in Tennessee, but expects to call Decatur home for the winter. Next season's plans are in doubt, but it is sure Charley won't return to Des Moines if he can get away.

HERE'S THE FIRST SACKER.

Beany Jacobson the Boy to Succeed Tom Tennant.

"Who will succeed Tom Tennant at first base? Is an anxious question of the fans.

Well, one suggestion is that Beany Jacobson develop himself into a first baseman. Beany is second to none as a hitter, fields his position better than any man in the Three-I, is left handed. If there are any other qualifications needed in a first sacker they can't be.

Beauty and Bad Breath

Cannot Go Together No Matter How a Woman May Try to Make Them.

It does not matter how beautiful a woman may be, if she is afflicted with a bad breath she will be shunned and pitied by men and even women will studiously avoid her.

If any woman doubts this statement let her make a point of asking a friend in whom she may confide, a man friend or relative, if he is honest he will tell her that foul breath from the mouth of a woman will drive men from her more rapidly than any other personal affliction.

Foul breath arouses in man disgust and where this quality is brought into play no amount of self-denial or reasoning can overcome the natural repugnance which comes to men when he is in company with such a woman.

What is true of bad breath in women is not true in so great a degree in men. Women are looked upon as the incarnation of sweetness, breeding, virtue and refinement. Foul breath will sicken a man so that he cannot feel for such a woman a companionship necessary to make him desire to be in her company.

There is absolutely no occasion for bad breath in either men or women. Charcoal, the strongest absorbent known, when taken into the stomach, will prevent this repugnant tendency or affliction.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are sold in tremendous quantities all over America and Canada. They cure and have cured all forms of bad breath. A single box will convince you of this fact. One should eat some of these lozenges after each meal and upon retiring. You might eat fifty of them without harm. They are not medicine, but pure willow charcoal mixed with sweet honey to make them palatable and compressed into a lozenge to preserve their peculiar and lasting strength.

The next time you wish to go into company and don't want your foul breath to humiliate you, eat several of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges and your breath will be pure and sweet. Every druggist carries them, price 25 cents, or send your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Fatal Injuries.

How often we read of fatal injuries inflicted by accident. But those that result from neglect to safeguard the health are passed by in silence. Disease does not relax its hold of its own accord. Day by day it becomes more deep-seated and no superficial treatment by advertised remedies or drugs alone, can be relied on.

Brains, experience and skill must be brought to bear in each particular case. The afflicted are realizing more and more that they must eventually turn for relief to the specialist, who devotes his entire time and energies to the treatment of chronic diseases and ailments of long standing. He knows what he does and why he does it. He does not have to guess.

The services of the average specialist are to be had only in the largest cities, but one of them, knowing that many would find it impossible to come to him, extends the field of his labors. Dr. C. A. Hoag is known by previous visits here as a physician of reliability, skill and broad experience in curing thousands of apparently hopeless cases. He may be consulted free on the day he visits our city.

Dr. Hoag will be in Decatur, Saturday, Sept. 26, at Hotel St. Nicholas. Office hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

LAST QUARTER SAVED YEAR

Three Months Brought the Level Up to the High Point.

FURNISHED A SURPRISE

In the Volume of Business for 12 Months—Outlook
Full of Promise.

New York, Dec. 30.—Dun & Co. to-morrow will say: Holiday week brought the customary quiet conditions in the business world, inventories and preparations for the annual settlements monopolizing attention, except in some branches of manufacture where immediate deliveries were required. The annual reviews indicate the year has made a much better showing than seemed possible at the outset, the second half comparing very favorably with the first six months, and the amount of business on the books in leading industries promises still further improvement in 1905.

Traffic returns of December indicate the gross value of retail sales 7.3 per cent larger than in the previous year, and foreign commerce for the last week at this port shows an increase of $1,543,163 in exports and a gain of $3,191,245 in imports compared with 1902.

Booyant sentiments prevail in the iron and steel industry, and the industry on the whole is in a remarkably strong position, compared with the close of last year.

Although salesmen for New England shoe factories have secured a few spinning orders for the new season, owing to high prices demanded but limited supplies in the hands of jobbers and dealers will necessitate replenishing of broken assortment in the near future. Buyers of cotton goods are reluctant to place orders on the sharp decline in cotton, but limited stocks and difficulty of securing prompt delivery hold prices steady. Woolen goods are advancing because of the upward tendency of raw wool.

Failures this week were 253 in the United States against 232 last year.

BRADSTREETS.

A period of marked, even unexpected, activity in holiday goods is higher than in any previous year. The quality of the goods, which, because of the marked improvement in the last quarter, has been better than it began, and certainly far better shape than seemed at the close of the year. Wholesale prices of stock taking and in the iron and steel industry, and in the cotton and woolen goods, have been an encouraging factor in the recent heavy circulation of money in retail lines in enlarged receipts.

Industry is notably large volume for this season of the year, especially in iron and steel and kindred lines of manufacture. The cotton goods manufacturing trade has, however, been unsettled by the election in cotton to below cost of production, and southern trade has been depressed in tone thereby.

Other developments have been largely favorable. The improvement in the winter wheat situation has been a failure. Detailed telegrams to Bradstreet show an exceptionally large holiday trade northward, and in the iron and steel trade shows much more than reasonable activity. Finished products are strong, tending upward in fact. Prices of other metals have been steady, with copper being in good demand, advancing to the highest point yet reached. Tin also advanced.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 93,000 bushels, against 2,915,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 34,746,000 against 56,151,000 last year. Corn exports for the week were 158,000 bushels against 925,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 1,500,000 bushels against 28,622,000 in 1903.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Dec. 30.—The total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the principal cities of the United States for the week ended Dec. 25, 1904, an increase of 17.6 per cent as compared with the corresponding period last year.

Danville, Ill., Dec. 30.—The remains of Rev. The chapel was crowded long before the hour of the service and the many floral offerings showed the high esteem in which he was held. Presiding Elder E. H. Whitlock of the Methodist church, had charge of the services and was assisted by other ministers of the Danville churches. After the services the remains were borne back to the family home and from there they were taken to Shelbyville for burial.

Two Residents of Springfield Fall Into a Trance.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—Springfield physicians are puzzled over the strange cases of two women of this city who are in protracted slumps. She fell into a trance in a room in a hotel. Neither has eaten since she became afflicted, but both take an occasional drink of water.

Though she has taken no nourishment for more than a month, Miss Sanders' body shows no sign of emaciation or of physical weakness. This is her first attack of the kind. Mrs. Blam has been similarly afflicted before, once remaining in a comatose state for several weeks. She shows signs of fever.

HUGH NICOL IN DECATUR

Declined to Discuss the Object of His Visit to This City.

HE IS MAKING TRADES

But Will Not Tell What Is In Prospect.

Hugh Nicol, manager of the Peoria baseball association, was in Decatur yesterday on a matter of business which he declined to reveal. When asked if he had been in contact with affairs of the Three I. baseball league he said:

"However much I might want to give you a line on my mission I can not do so for it might spoil the game. I know that it would, for you would publish it and that would be the end of the thing. 'Have I got some trades on?' Certainly, because I am making up a team for the coming season. But I can not count for nothing until the deal is closed and the papers are signed, so that the trades that I have in sight are absolutely no trade, but they are all there. I have signed seven or eight players and will have a good team when it is completed. I do not expect pennant winners this year. All I want to do is to play in the first division. That will satisfy me and it will satisfy the fans at Peoria. I am a little handicapped in having to go out and make up a new team entire, while the other members of our association were able to reserve the men they had last year and they have something to go on. Do you know that there are absolutely no trades in this league anywhere now that can be signed?"

"All of the letters that I am getting asking for places are from players who are unknown. Of course I shall try to get a number of them, but they are all new. Some may prove good, but that is speculation. There are thirty baseball leagues in this country all well protected by association agreements that enable them to reserve their men. These leagues are for the most part eight club associations. Figure out what a small army of baseball players there are. All of the good ones are under contract. Every man who is after good men. All of them are beating the bushes. The good men that are known are signed. But we will have a team at Peoria that will play good ball. We have no fear on that score."

Good Team Here.

"Decatur will have a good team next season, even better than last year. I am not a betting man, but I know I know? I have seen the list of the men who have signed. I know what they are. I am glad that I came to Decatur today. Seeing that list was worth something to me. I know I have to go against and that gives me a lunch as to what I must do in making up our team. I've got to hustle."

The Three I. league will have some fast ball next year. It was fast last year, but it will be better next season. The people of Peoria are pleased to get the Three I. league back. They have been in Peoria for a long time, and they will be in good shape as they had when they were in the Western league. They know that the Three I. is a strong league and that the game will be tight."

In Peoria we are in good shape and have all of the money that is needed. People own the stock of the association. I do not want that we are going to spend unlimited money to get a team and that there will be no limit to salaries for that is not the policy. But I mean that we have money enough to carry us through. We will make an effort to conduct the affairs of the team on a business basis and give them first class ball playing, and make some money. We can do that."

Likes Berlin.

"The Rockefeller injunction? That amounts to nothing. The league is paying no attention to it. There is not a tie for the injunction to stand on. 'Who is the actual population of Decatur?' I suppose that you claim a few thousand more than you have. That is the rule. But that makes no difference. Decatur is the best ball town for its size that I ever saw, and there have been some good men handling the affairs here the last year or two. There's Wilson Berling, for instance. He knows baseball and he is one of the sharpest men in the Three I. league. He was after Rockefeller for several years, and, of course, when he was after Rockefeller he was after me. He was trying to get us thrown out of the Three I. league. But I have nothing against him. Never had. Even when he was after Rockefeller the hardest we were good friends personally. He was working for a business standpoint for the good of the league and there was no personality in the fight that we carried on in the league."

City Draws Line On Removal of Chicago Fights to That City. Joliet, Ill., Dec. 30.—The prize fights scheduled to be pulled off in Joliet were indefinitely postponed on account of the action taken by the Joliet Board of Police.

man Society. Sixty warrants for all those who had been advertised to take part in the fight for the prize money of the show were sworn out by D. H. Darling, president of the society, and placed in the hands of Sheriff J. H. Kay.

The sheriff prepared to serve them, but the news that warrants had been issued quickly reached the promoters and they called off the program. About sixty followers of the sport had come to Joliet from Bloomington and several hundred from neighboring towns and Chicago. When they arrived at the hall they found Sheriff Kay on guard and no one was permitted to enter. All preparations had been made. Moore and Forbes weighed in at 121 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon and it was generally supposed that the authorities would not interfere. The disappointment was great among the sporting fraternity.

The promoters were out several hundred dollars and the crowd was scattered and angry. The announcement that Mayor Crotts might interfere was made, but few of the sporting fraternity had any idea that he would stop it. The news of the sheriff's action was totally unsuspected.

DEATH, RECALLS DARDIN DEED.

Mrs. Mattern, Who Discovered Patent to Carrollton County Lands, Dies.

New York, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Sophie L. Mattern, who had discovered a patent to a valuable tract of land in Carroll county, Mo., is dead in Brooklyn. The patent was found on the back of a family portrait and names James Dardin as grantee of the land. No record of the patent was found in the Carroll county books and Mrs. Mattern did not urge the claim and the legitimacy of the paper has not been tested. Several years ago Mrs. Mattern, who was an accomplished painter and linguist, was interested in the land and herself in the hands of the police. She served as a matron of a police station for several years. Paralysis was the cause of her death.

MR. BEAR WHIPS BIG WILDCAT.

Farmer Fights for Life When Feroocious Animal Attacks from Ambush. Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 30.—Washington Bear, a farmer, living near Mount Holly, was attacked by a wildcat while in his field. The bear, which was followed by a pack of wolves, sprang upon him and a fierce struggle ensued. In which Bear succeeded in mauling the animal. It made for him again, and in attempting to kick it off Bear broke the animal's lower jaw. This so infuriated the bear that it made another plunge at Bear, tearing the clothes from his body and badly scratching him. Bear finally killed the beast, which weighed fifty pounds.

ASKS WIFE TO DIE; THEN TAKES POISON

Aged Illinois Farmer Ends His Life After Prolonged Request to Spouse.

Nashville, Ill., Dec. 30.—"I'm tired of life. Will you join me?" asked Gottlieb Gaudert today, politely, offering his wife a bottle of carbolic acid. Strolling at her horrified refusal he turned on his heel and walked away. He looked on powerlessly to stop him. A messenger was instantly dispatched for a doctor, but before help arrived, Gaudert was dead.

Gaudert was a prosperous farmer near Oakville. He was 73 years old and had made all preparations for death even to slaying himself. Following the cremation of her body in St. Louis, the ashes of Mrs. Sarah Gaudert of Kansas City will be scattered on the shore of the Atlantic from shore to shore, from the deck of an ocean liner. Mrs. Gaudert died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances McNicol of this city. Her last wish was that her corpse be cremated and the ashes kept until next summer in an urn in her daughter's room and then committed to the deep. Mrs. McNicol says that her mother's every decision will be carried out to the letter.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 30.—Following the cremation of her body in St. Louis, the ashes of Mrs. Sarah Gaudert of Kansas City will be scattered on the shore of the Atlantic from shore to shore, from the deck of an ocean liner. Mrs. Gaudert died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances McNicol of this city. Her last wish was that her corpse be cremated and the ashes kept until next summer in an urn in her daughter's room and then committed to the deep. Mrs. McNicol says that her mother's every decision will be carried out to the letter.

WHIPPING POST IS RECOMMENDED

District of Columbia Grand Jury Acts on Roosevelt's Suggestion.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The local grand jury in making its final report for the present term recommended the establishment of a whipping post in the district. The question has been considerably agitated ever since the president in his last annual message recommended corporal punishment for wife beaters in the District of Columbia. The recommendation that persons about to be married produce evidence of freedom from certain diseases also is made.

SULTAN BACKS DOWN.

Concludes That He Will Not Fly in Face of the French.

Paris, Dec. 30.—According to a dispatch from Paris sent to the League, the sultan of Morocco has received M. Gullard, the French vice consul at Fez, and informed him that the order for the dismissal of the French military mission has been canceled. He has the same time the sultan urged the diplomatic mission of M. St. Bene Tullander (French minister to Morocco) to start at once for Fez.

Washington, Dec. 30.—It has been decided by the president that Ambassador Tower at Berlin, and Ambassador McCormick at St. Petersburg, will be retained in these posts in the new administration.

CRABS FLOOD THE BEACH.

Singular Occurrence Three Times a Winter at the Mouth of the Chesapeake.

"Soft shell crabs are as commonplace to the tide water Virginian as are the oysters to the Bostonian, while the hard shell may be got at any time in Chesapeake bay by means of a string with a piece of meat dropped overboard and a scoop-net to land the creature," says Alice R. Corbin, in What to Eat.

"But most remarkable is an extravaganza of the Atlantic that occurs, so the natives say, about three times a winter down at Cape Henry at the mouth of the Chesapeake. The icy condition of the water puts the crabs into a partialy frozen and numbed condition, and it is the wind takes a certain direction there are sure to be miles and miles of beach covered with masses of fat blue bodies and sprawling imbecile pink legs that stretch up helplessly into the air. The first crabs coming in on the crest of a big wave excite little curiosity. Then the number steadily increases, the 100-yard beach at last becoming covered with crabs, sea waves and sand, and sea-biscuits, sea-hogs and the giant king crab, with a top like the bowl of a mandolin, and a long, thin tail like a cat's sticking out behind. Finally, the waves themselves are no longer waves of water, but literally waves of crabs."

"Then the little settlement of government employes and the stray wood hermits and the dorkies from back in the desert get to work. They hitch up their broad two-wheeled beach carts and work from morning till night gathering in the crabs, taking them to the market or to the markets or to canning factories) and then coming back for more."

"At nightfall the lighthouse keepers, the weather bureau and the signal corps and the life savers have gone home, but the dorkies up toward Lynn Haven bay are still at work. Those that have no carts content themselves with burlap bags thrown over the shoulder, and many of them bring pitchforks to help disengage the great masses of seaweed. You can see their dark, grotesque faces plainly in the light of their lanterns, and hear the clatter of their carts about them on a narrow strip of beach between the howling ocean and the darker land of the woods behind you, having a picture that is worthy of it not surpassing the hand of a Duper or a Breton. Through it all runs the wild strain of their fantastic melodies, mingling in with the roar of the surf and the clatter of the night birds in the woods behind."

"Finally the deluge of crabs, lasting often two or three days, millions of sea-gulls—gulls that measure three feet from tip to tip—swarm down upon the coast; the sullen buzzard, with its savage beak, tears through the crabs' breastplate for the tender meat; and the hogs that run wild about the huts of the Islanders make an end of this mammoth upheaval of the ocean which feeds so many."

Francis Joseph, emperor of Austria, is a disciplinarian's saint reproache. Though 74 years old, he watched this year's military maneuvers closely from beginning to end with the keen eye of a military expert. Four o'clock was the hour at which the veteran awoke without being called, to take part in the maneuvers which lasted each day from 6 a. m. until 2 p. m., when a true soldier goes to bed. At 10 o'clock was the hour at which the emperor, in spite of his advanced age, was in the saddle from 5 a. m. until 12 p. m. each day as long as the maneuvers lasted. He showed no signs of fatigue after these exertions and, at lunch time he munched his sandwiches and drank his wine from a flask like the youngest hussar on his staff.

SEED CORN ON THE HARRIS FARM

Every one of these hundreds of ears is submitted to the germination test, and only those ears that germinate satisfactorily are retained for seed.

NOTHING IS WASTED ON HARRIS ESTATE

Burning Anything Useful for Feed or Fertility a High Crime—Whole Farm a Lesson in Conservation.

Conservation is the watchword on the B. F. Harris farm in Seymour. Nothing is wasted. The oak monarchs which Mr. Harris was obliged to fell to let light upon his blue grass pastures, were sawed up into lumber for barns and sheds.

The great stacks of wheat straw that are left after threshing are loaded in to Mr. Harris' famous straw spreader and scattered over the winter wheat, giving fertility to the soil and protecting the tender sprouts during the winter.

"We burn nothing," says Mr. Harris.

emphatically. "One of our men without authority, set fire to some fence and some of the oak monarchs. The blaze spread and did some damage. We disposed of it with his services."

Perhaps Mr. Harris' statement should not be taken too literally. There are a lot of farms that need nothing so much as a bon fire. Clutter, such as old wagons, old, discarded steel, broken wheels, etc., that characterize so many farm places, is conspicuous for its absence on the Harris farm. But it is certain that nothing that would be useful and nothing that would give fertility to the soil, is destroyed.

Stock raising is a practical illustration in the conservation of fertility. The miles upon miles of alfalfa, which Mr. Harris has laid in the last two years, represent an attempt to conserve needed moisture and warmth as well as to take off the excess moisture.

Mr. Harris is trying to teach his neighbors that stock raising pays. The Harris place is as much an institution in Champagne county as the Pink farm place is in McLean.

"Raise stock," is Mr. Harris' repeated exhortation to his neighbors. You can take on a few sheep, or a few more hogs far more cheaply than I can.

Cleaning Up The Odds and Ends.

"Sheep will feed themselves. We had a big stand of grass on one of our dikes. The labor cost of cutting it would have been exorbitant. We just ran wire fences along the dike and turned in the sheep. They cropped it so close that it looked like a lawn mowed last spring over it.

"Last spring we opened up a road, and I wanted to get rid of the weeds that lined it. We bought a carload of cots. They ate the weeds, and then we rounded them up and sent them to Chicago."

WHEAT LOOKS SPINDLY BECAUSE OF DRY FALL

Thanksgiving Will See the Largest Part of the Illinois Corn Crop In the Cities.

The weekly grain letter, issued by H. I. Baldwin & Co., Saturday follows:

"Growing wheat looks a little spindly on account of dry fall. When it does start to rain we probably will get a plenty."

A shocking progressing rapidly—Thanksgiving will see the crop mostly in crisis. Many elevators have closed their doors and cannot receive corn until cars show up to carry it. This situation will probably continue for months to come.

Early Helped Some.

"The coal men, the interstate commerce commission and the railroads, have had a party at Louisville Ky., for amusement they played coal cards—looks like they enjoyed some and time and helped matters. Grain dealers are picking up their cars at this and show signs of getting busy too."

"Illinois has so far on this crop been the chief factor in making the corn market. It's evident that the section of the corn belt running through Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota will soon be freed from the heavy burden of a greater yield than we. Are getting along pretty well with the corn harvest and will not doubt make good sized surpluses for normal market in December."

"It's a pleasure to read the grading certificates for corn this year. Think that the average moisture content in this section is under 14 per cent now. The fierce heat of last summer did not drive the oil out of the corn, on the contrary the fall crop yields about 22 pounds of oil to each bushel. The better in his time has seen the farmer sell a bushel of corn for the same money that the corn oil in a bushel will sell for now."

"Dealers are not taking time or care to load cars now and movement is lightest on the crop."

RULES ARE DISCUSSED

Canning Club Girls Plan to Enter Exhibits for Institute.

A number of the Mason County Canning club representatives attended the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon. The time was passed in discussing the rules of the canning department of the institute.

Girls who are in the club and wish to enter canned goods at the institute, must send one report to James H. Greene, University Extension Department, Urbana and to Mrs. Howard A. Beverly, Decatur, R. R. No. 1, by 11 a. m.

In Scotland 23.4 per cent. of illuminating gas is made in municipal works to 51.4 per cent. in Ireland and 20.6 per cent. in England.

CREDIT MEN BANQUET

Annual Meeting in Hotel Orlando Monday Evening.

The Decatur Association of Credit Men will have the annual banquet on Monday night in the private dining room of the Hotel Orlando. About 60, including local and Springfield men will be present.

S. J. Whitlock, one of the directors of the national association, will be one of the principal speakers. Several others will speak and an interesting program will be given.

Hot Fomentations or Hot Packs

THIS forms one of the most widely used agents at the world famous Battle Creek Sanitarium, and allied institutions. Fomentations are flannel cloths heated in live steam as hot as can be borne by the body, and wrapped in woolen blankets.

They are applied directly to the affected parts. Hot Fomentations are, particularly valuable in the treatment of severe colds, rheumatism, lumbago and neuritis.

Good for Well Folks

Well for Ill Folks

Fomentations can be administered to the delicate as well as the robust—its power to stimulate bodily functions, its absolute effect, through the nerves of the skin upon the entire body, and the power it possesses to relieve pain and stimulate the vital functions of repair, make it a most useful remedial agent.

COTTON FARMERS ARE MAKING BIG MONEY

R. D. Hill Seen 25 Bushel Corn in Arkansas that Was Sold for $1 a Bushel.

R. D. Hill has returned to Decatur after a visit with friends in Paragould and other cities in Arkansas, and was much impressed by some of the things that he saw during his first visit to that state. "Remember that I still believe that Illinois is one of the greatest, if not the greatest agricultural state in the Union, but Arkansas is not so slow in that line. I saw fairly good corn there which I was told had made an average of 25 bushels to the acre, and they were selling it for $1 per bushel."

Cotton Staple Crop.

"Cotton is, however, the staple crop and I saw in one place 12,000 bales of cotton. I don't remember what the price was but I do remember that it was said to be the highest price paid for cotton since the civil war and reports of planters who have made $100 per acre on their cotton crop this year were common. What degree of accuracy there was in these statements I do not know, but it seemed to me that cotton was piled everywhere and some of those Arkansas towns with populations ranging from 2,000 to 6,000 people were fairly bubbling with business and every one seemed to have money."

NEW DEVICE DIRECTS MOTORISTS TO GOAL

Automatic Mileometer Points Out Every Turn in Road from Various Cities to Others.

If a new device which is to be placed on sale at the W. L. Shellabarger & Sons' garage in a few months proves to be a success, automobile drivers need make no mistake in the roads they choose on long trips. The device is a "mileometer," made on the same principles as a speedometer.

Points Out the Way.

In the device, a linen tape announces the distance traveled and tells the driver every turn and direction to take in going from a certain city to another. Special tapes bearing directions for trips from nearly any two cities are provided at no cost, after a mileometer is bought. If a motorist desires to go to Quincy, he follows the directions of a tape to Springfield, given him at the Decatur service station. This tape takes him to the service station in Springfield, where another is obtained to show the road and all its turns just as the motorist reaches them on the rest of the trip to Quincy.

The same system is followed to all parts of the United States. The device will not be put in stock until the first of next year. A road map is included in the initial cost.

MANY LICENSES ISSUED.

CINCINNATI THRONGED WITH FANS FOR OPENING OF SERIES

EVERYTHING READY FOR OPENING GAME OF SERIES TODAY

Every Available Space Taken—Hotels Crowded With Baseball Enthusiasts—Teams Take Final Work-out on Field.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon one of the four umpires at Redland Field will wave his hand, the Cincinnati Reds will take their playing positions, Leibold or J. Collins, of the Chicago White Sox will enter the batters' box and the first of the great contests for baseball's richest prize and highest honors will begin.

Nothing but weather of the most unfavorable kind will delay the start and when play starts the greatest throng that ever saw a ball game in Cincinnati will be assembled. Every seat at the park has been sold for the first two games and all reserved seats for the first three games have been purchased.

Cincinnati hotels groaned today under the weight of baseball enthusiasm. They were the cauldron in which diamond discussion from the four corners of the country bubbled. Above the din created by the clamor for rooms and accommodations, more highly pitched than the eternal alibi of the man who failed to write for tickets in advance rose the voice of King Baseball.

The majority of the guests who registered at the principal hotels were prepared for inconveniences and they were actually surprised when they found how thoroughly the management had laid their plans. In some instances fifteen men will find it necessary to sleep in one room but they will be comfortable in single beds. Some may have to sleep behind green in reception rooms and halls but their beds will be but a step from a luxurious shower.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio was one of the more fortunate and has the entire bridal suite of one of the leading hotels. Barney Oldfield, the noted automobile racer and some of his party will occupy the bridal suite at another hotel, while presidents Herrmann and Comiskey both have engaged suites where they can receive their friends.

Even the extremely unfortunate who can find no accommodations will have police protection when they report to park benches, if such a thing becomes necessary, Cincinnati safety forces are giving the desired orders to the police.

Orange Final Details. The morning the final details of the series will be made at the National Committee meeting. The umpires will be assigned and the managers of both teams and the umpires will be acquainted with the ground rules.

While no official announcement has been made relative to ground rules it is believed the National League rules will apply for the series. The field is entirely free from obstruction in right field, while more than three quarters of center field is free and a long hit to certain parts of either of these can possibly result in a home run. Ground rules relative to the bleachers in left and center fields hold the runners to three bases, while the ball that is fair but that rolls foul after it passes first or third base and touches the newly erected bleacher seats that line left and right fields has been considered a two bagger.

Absence of Betting. Betting on the series was noticeable today for its absence. Several agents of large amounts were offered. No takers were reported. Local fans are demanding odds while Chicago supporters are asking even money, and a deadlock appears to exist.

Both teams worked out at Redland Field today. The Reds taking a turn in the morning and then allowing the Sox to figure on the angles of the field. In the afternoon the White Sox were allowed full practice in order to become acquainted with the effect of the sun's rays at different times during the afternoon.

Sox Warmly Welcomed. John Collins, the Chicago out-felder after finishing his practice said: "I am going out right now and make one purchase. This is a pair of sun glasses. They will be useful in this field is the forecast and I believe them."

As the train bearing the contingents of the American League came puffing to a halt in Grand Central depot this morning three men who protruded their heads from their cars and engaged Illinois for the White Sox. That was the greeting at the station but a more noisy group one met them as they entered their hotel and they had heard the getting to the desk and finally to their rooms. No great was the push to shake their hands and greet them.

Londoners Confident. The special train carrying the Chicago rooters, who started in and did not leave until tomorrow morning, but the land was re-rehearsed by a full delegation and it was this crowd that helped make the White Sox so popular at their hotel.

Both Manager Gleason of the White Sox and Manager Moran of the Reds gave voice to their confidence in their team would be returned to only winners of the three games of the entire series and both paid compliments to each other by stating that they knew that they had a fight on their hands. From headquarters were opened this afternoon and four hundred visitors, and local newspaper men obtained their seats.

The crush in the hotels and the confusion became constantly greater as each income tax payer brought thousands of a large number have come without hotel reservations and without making arrangements for

CHAS. JACKSON MAY PLAY HERE

Expected to Be in Wabada Line-up When They Meet Staleys Sunday

"Lefty" Leifeld one of the star left handers of baseball, who should have led the American league pitchers this year, will appear on the mound for the famous Wabadas of St. Louis when they oppose the Staley Fellowship team at Decatur next Sunday. Leifeld is the only veteran member of the Wabadas. He is 34 years old. The others are all under 24, many of them under 20.

Leifeld was a star pitcher with the Cubs as far back as 1906. He was with Pittsburgh after that and helped win the World's championship for that club in 1909. He was sent back to the minor leagues for two years but recovered his form and has been pitching great ball for the past two seasons. He led the Boston team in 1917 and all with one hit last month and shut out the Philadelphia Athletics with 4 hits last week. Leifeld is in his best form just now and the Staley boys will have to go some to beat him.

Real star catcher of the Yankees will receive Leifeld in this game. J. B. Sheridan, of St. Louis who is managing the Wabadas, writes to Manager McGinnity that he may have Charley Jackson, former star of the Peoria and Bloomington Three Exes teams to play center instead of Archdeacon advertised as the fastest man in baseball. Archdeacon, Sheridan says is a faster man than Jackson but the Jackson is the more experienced player. Sheridan is stuck on Archdeacon's speed and is wavering as to whether he will play the experienced Jackson or the young speed demon.

The Wabadas great star is Charley Hollocher, the shortstop of the Chicago Cubs. Sheridan says that Hollocher is the best ball player the Wabadas have ever turned out, but adds that Schmandt who had a bad year in 1919 is even a better man but was in hard luck last year. Schmandt is said to be a great hitter and a fine fielder. He will cover first for the Wabadas, though he played second for Brooklyn in 1915-1919 and batted .207, the same figure as Hollocher in 1918. Schmandt played with Birmingham in 1915-16. The manager of the Wabadas stoutly asserts that he is sure he has the best barnstorming team out this year.

It is two to one a better team than any other St. Louis club," he writes to McGinnity. "Contrast Hollocher with any other St. Louis shortstop or Ruel with any St. Louis catcher. Old Lefty Leifeld is going great. If you don't believe it look up his record of games. I'll have a first class big league club in Decatur on October 5. You'd better step fast on Sunday, Mr. McGinnity, or the Wabadas will take all the money out of Decatur."

Generally speaking, the shortest day is the day before pay day.

October 4—Newman in Newman
October 11—Shelbyville in Tuscola
October 18—Paris in Tuscola
October 25—Mattoon in Tuscola
November 1—Pana in Pana
November 8—Sullivan in Sullivan
November 15—Atwood in Tuscola
November 22—Arcola in Tuscola

It is as cowardly to speak ill of a man behind his back as it is dangerous to say it to his face.

WABADA STAR HERE SUNDAY

Herald Paul the catcher of the New York Yankees is the life and soul of the famous Wabadas. He is a ball club with a scheduled to play the Staley Fellowship team at Decatur next Sunday and to play in the game with the Wabadas in 1919, when he was 18 years old. He is an amateur and is now a professional. He was then with the St. Louis Browns and then he went to the Wabadas and then he went to the Wabadas and then he went to the Wabadas.

This in 1916-17 and Memphis sold him to New York in 1917 for a fancy price. Ruel is said to be a fast and fast baller. Fast won't do it. Ruel is a fast runner and a fast fielder. He is also a fast hitter. Ruel will catch Lefty Leifeld when the Wabadas play in Decatur. Hollocher and Ruel will be the Wabadas' first and then he will be the Wabadas' first and then he will be the Wabadas' first.

Brusloff Takes First Two Heats in Kentucky Classic but Loses

RECORD TIME MADE

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 30.—The feature of the second day's racing at the meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association

In the first mile Periscope, the favorite, after leading into the stretch, broke and Brusloff won easily. The second heat was a close finish between Periscope and Brusloff the last named winning by a narrow margin. BRITISH AND FRENCH PICK CARPENTIER TO WHIP DEMPSEY

ODDS NOW OFFERED ON FRENCH CHAMP IN ENGLAND AND PARIS

Sportsmen Across the Atlantic Can't See Anything But Handsome Georges in International Heavyweight Battle.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—"Georges Carpentier should defeat your man Dempsey. There has never been another like Georges. Should Carpentier fail, even to the point of getting knocked out, Dempsey will never be able to really beat him; never crush his spirit."

Here is the English viewpoint of the French champion and the angle from which the average British fight fan looks at a fighter according to Tex O'Rourke, matchmaker of the International Sporting club, who has just returned to this country from a trip abroad, bringing back some of London's best amateur battlers.

"They have a different way of looking at a fighter over there," said O'Rourke today. "Once a boxer has established himself—got a reputation—he can go on and on no matter how many times he is beaten. Look at Beckett for instance. I'll venture we have ten men or perhaps more in this country who could knock Beckett out but the English still back him. He's the champion and that settles it."

Odds On Carpentier.
When Carpentier and Dempsey meet there's going to be a lot of British and French money on the handsome Georges and at odds. Why, you can get two to one on Carpentier in France right now and as good as 10 to 7 in England. Perhaps if the fight is staged on the other side of the Atlantic the odds will fluctuate after the English have had a chance to look him over. But now they can't see anything but Carpentier.

"After Moran knocked Beckett out, one of the members of the National Sporting club said to me: 'I could arrange to have Bill Brennan or some other good heavyweight come across to fight before his club. He even suggested Dempsey and wanted to stage Beckett on the other end of the match.'"

"Moran Won't Do."
"What's the matter with Moran?" asked him. "Text said, 'and he really did that Moran wouldn't do because he wasn't a contender, and because he did not rank as a contender among the Americans. And this after he had knocked Beckett for a goal in two rounds. So you see the view-point.'"

O'Rourke said that the English are enthusiastic over the plan of the International Sporting club for encouraging amateurs, creating champions, the various industries and bringing together the leading amateur fighters of different nations. "O'Rourke brought back the heavy and middleweight champions of the London police force and the army and navy," he said. "The American champions will be selected soon and the bouts will be featured by the International Sporting club about the middle of January."

FEW CHANGES INDIAN LINEUP

CLEVELAND, Dec. 24.—The Cleveland American League team, winners of the world's championship, will probably start the 1921 season with substantially the same lineup as they wound up the 1920 race. James C. Dunn, president of the club is satisfied with the team as it is and will stand pat on the lineup for next year's campaign, without looking for a single addition to his regulars or substitutes.

"They were strong enough to win the world's pennant and look good enough to me to be able to repeat," said President Dunn. "We may should look for new material?"

MARANVILLE DEAL RUMOR FAILS TO DISTURB BRAVES

Rabbit Maranville, George Grant, president of the Boston Braves, isn't worrying because the Hub newspapers persist in trading Rabbit Maranville, his color, shorts, to the Pittsburgh Pirates. He says he won't worry till the time for signing contracts draws nigh. He admits that the Braves will have a great staff of pitchers next season.

"THE CRAB" RETURNS AND CHICAGO FANS ARE GLAD

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
IT'll be a case of going back home for Johnny. The fiery little infielder gained his name and fame there years ago, but for the last several seasons has pastured elsewhere. It'll be a return to the team as manager, too, for Jawn ran the club one short season—that of 1913.

Evers first broke into baseball box scores in Troy, New York, his native city, in 1902. Just three months after he started with that New York State league club the Cubs grabbed him. That he soon became pivot man in the greatest infield in history is ancient stuff. "Thinkers to Evers to Chance!" That outfit split death to thousands of hopeful butlers and base runners. He might have remained with the Cubs always but for a disagreement with Charlie Murphy. That was after Evers had tried his hand as manager in 1913. When John got through telling Murphy what kind of a club owner Murphy was

YOU can smile about it now. But it was a tragedy then. No fun at all to wait for second table—to hear the folks praising the tenderness of the turkey, and the goodness of the cranberries. Not pleasant at all to stand with an "aching void," wondering if there would be anything left. But, oh, the enjoyment when your chance finally came.

Every meal was a treat in those days! Remember the wonderful bread and butter? May today call back the memory of those days.

We are wishing you a real old fashioned Merry Christmas with the kindest appreciation of the generous patronage extended to us during the past year.

INSPECTOR STRICKLAN

Of the Interstate Commerce Commission Looking After Safety Appliances.

GOES TO SPRINGFIELD

Jeffrey a Member of the Wabash Board.

J. H. Stricklan, safety appliance inspector for the interstate commerce commission, is in Decatur looking after the safety appliances that the railroads are required to have on their cars, and watching the enforcement of the various requirements of the law are being observed.

The railroad men are not uneasy on account of the visit of Inspector Stricklan because there are some important work on the system every day. They do not work under cover. When an inspector is ready to make the rounds of a railroad yard he can depend on the freight repair foreman and asks that the company men make a trip through the yards. In making his report to the commission, the inspector afterward recites that the defect noted was discovered in the presence of the foreman and that his attention was called to it. This report gives the name and number of the car, the coupler cut of service. The disappearance of the coupler pin is the most frequent defect.
This is the pin which is put through the chain for instance to hold the pin. The latter is a pin that is pulled out after it has been pushed through the hole in the pin the halves are spread so that it can not fall out. It is especially sought its absence might pass unnoticed. These pins cost perhaps three cents per dozen so that it is charged that the railroad men forget their use because of the cost. The secretary of the commission sends to the executive head of each railroad corporation a report of the work of the commission and as a rule these reports are then forwarded to the head of the car department.

One of the recent reports of the commission sent to the Wabash showing how many defects had been found in the equipment of that road community upon the showing which the Wabash company was making, and said that as compared with the showing made by other roads was something for the Wabash to be proud of.

The federal law provides that freight trains shall be made up in a certain way as to the placing of cars equipped with air brakes. That sixty per cent of the cars in each train shall be equipped with air brakes and be placed next to the engine. Freight Inspector Stricklan stood on the platform of the Illinois Central and then on the platform of the Wabash station and made notes on the way passing trains were put together. More than once he found that while there were in the train the required number of cars equipped with air brakes, these cars were placed in the train without regard to their equipment. For instance in one train there were ten cars with air next to the engine and there were more than thirty cars in the train. There were twenty with air brake equipment scattered indiscriminately through the train, with the air hose not connected.
The interstate commission is in this respect in line with the railroad companies. There was not a road in the country when the law was passed that could not have been bankrupted if they had been compelled to buy improved air brake equipment. The commission's extension of the time limit have been made and the railroads have been given ample time to meet with the requirements.

There is a disposition to disregard the commission's law that the law is not enforced and that the penalties are enforced and they are heavy. Each violation of the law means a fine of at least one hundred dollars. The absence of so much as a coupler pin is a violation but the fines are never imposed for that. One of the recent reports however call the attention of railroad managers to the fact that a St. Louis road had been fined seven thousand dollars in one day for what appeared a slight neglect of these warnings.
There are a number of companies that have made special efforts to comply with the law and these companies are the question of how to deal with the cars of negligent companies is one of the problems. The commission has practically been reduced that there is only one way and that is to absolutely refuse to accept a car unless it is in perfect condition as to the safety applicances. The enforcement of such a rule will bring the slow companies to time more effectively than any rule that could be adopted.

The Pennsylvania railroad company, the largest in the country is said to be the greatest offender. At the same time the Pennsylvania company says that the interstate commission has no jurisdiction over the cars equipped of that road. The Pennsylvania has thousands of cars that are used in the coal trade and they never leave the limits of the state of Pennsylvania. The company's position is that as these cars are not used in interstate commerce they cannot be said to be in the interstate traffic and therefore are not under the jurisdiction of the commission.

Goes to Springfield.
P. E. Leonard who has been fuel inspector on the middle division of the Wabash has been appointed chief engineer despatcher of the Springfield division. This is not an unexpected appointment. When the Springfield division was created there was a general belief that either J. O. Shively or Mr.
Leonard would be assigned to the new territory and that in addition to their duties as engineers they would also be inspectors of fuel but that announcement is not yet made.

several of the companies in which could interest distribute, including the Western Pacific.
The directors of the Wabash decided not to make any distribution on the debenture "A" bonds. In June it was decided that the money which might be used to pay interest on the "A" bonds was needed for improvements to the property. It is understood that the sentiment of the directors on this matter was the same at the meeting Thursday.

More Power.
General Manager Collier, Pers Marquette, said that the delivery of the seventy new locomotives which have been ordered the company will be in a position within sixty or ninety days, to entirely replace the locomotives which have existed for some time on the lines of the system.

An indication of the prosperity of the company is evident in this company. More business is being offered than can be conveniently handled, owing to lack of power.

A majority of the locomotives ordered will be delivered during February.

Oppose Non-Negotiable Bill.
In Indiana, the proposed new railroad bill of Indiana has met the opposition of the bankers of the state. A special committee from the state assembly has submitted reports to the effect that the new "non-negotiable"
bill of Indiana is undesirable as security.

It is declared by the committee that the clause which seeks to compel the shipper to relieve the carrier of its common-law liability for goods damaged in transit, unless the shipper differs rates are charged, renders the bill unsafe as collateral. The report advises the shipper to sign the bill under no condition.

The committee makes three recommendations. First, that the bankers reject the non-negotiable bill as collateral; second, that bills of lading upon which the shipper relieves the carrier of liability be rejected as collateral; and third, that bills signed by shippers also be rejected.

No More Brakemen.
J. M. Morris, assistant general passenger agent, Pennsylvania lines, confirming the report that the brakemen on the lines of the company will change their title to guard. The change will take effect about the 1st of January.
The guards will wear a suitable insignia bearing their new title in discarding the traditional term of brakeman which is no longer applicable in passenger service. The Pennsylvania sets the pace for all other American lines.

Conductor Wm. Bullock of the Wabash passenger service has resumed his place on the road after a vacation of a week which he spent in Sandusky, Ohio.

Weldon Smith the mail transfer clerk who spent a vacation of several weeks in Louisiana is now confined to his room in the Angle hotel suffering with an acute attack of typhoid. He was to have resumed his duties as mail clerk today but that will now be impossible.

Wabash engine 808 came from the shops at Springfield yesterday.

Engineer John Ward of the north end of the Wabash was taken ill yesterday on his arrival in Decatur and went back to his home in Chicago.

Engineer Stiffey of the Wabash is on the sick list.

H. H. Taylor has resigned as contracting agent for the Lehigh and Wabash Dispatch at Toledo. He is succeeded on the Lehigh and Wabash Dispatch by Richard D. Sizem.

the board as extra yard engineer.

gine 833 has reported for service after tion of several days.

vice.

PRESSURE TOO GREAT.

Cheap Charley Had to Open His Doors in Advance of the Time Advertised.
Cheap Charley did not intend to open his doors for business until this morning, but Friday there was a crowd hanging around looking inside at the possible bargains and he could not resist their appealing looks. Consequently he threw open the doors and within a short time he had a crowd in the store and was doing a big business. He has found out that it pays to advertise. The offer made in the Herald in the morning looked good and fresh that the people could not resist the temptation of hustling off to the store and looking anxiously on the outside until the proprietor opened the door and let them in.

SOME BETTER.

Harry Patterson Has Ground to Hope For Son's Recovery.
Dr. W. C. Bowers received a message yesterday from Secretary Harry Patterson of the Y. M. C. A. to the effect that his son, Paul, was seriously ill, but the parents have hopes of recovery. Mr. Patterson was called to Bin-wood early yesterday morning by a message announcing the illness of his son. The boy's temperature was not running extremely high yesterday and his condition was better generally.

LOST HER VALISE.

Edith, 16-year-old Miss Edith Elder, who is attending the MURKIN university, came home Thursday night.
While at the depot in Decatur she stepped away from her valise and when she returned the valise was gone. A train came in on the main line and there was a big rush for the train and someone must have picked it up and left. The train was searched but the valise could not be found. All of her best clothes and some Christmas presents were in the valise. This is a hard loss for Miss Elder.

The burnished plumage of the peacock owes its brilliancy and splendor to a healthful condition. Let the bird be sickly, and the plumage droops and grows dull. There is no exception in nature to the rule that beauty depends on health.

Women who see their beauty waning rarely associate the external change with failure of the womanly health.
They do not understand the close relation of the general physical health to the health of the delicate womanly organism, until after being cured of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they find the color returning to the cheek and the flesh to the body.

"Several years ago I was very poorly," writes Mrs. May Kelley, of Sylva, Kan., "so weak I

Hon. V. Warner did not return home to spend the holidays. He probably took that time to look over the pension office.

Representative Hitt has indicated that he prefers to stay where he is, going to France as the American ambassador.

The fact that southern planters are burning cotton to reduce the supply indicates that the work of the government to destroy the boll weevil is all told.

It is reported that the Ohio democrats have started in a campaign against Bryan. There must be some mistake about this. The latest from Ohio indicated there were no democrats in that state.

MEETS THE CANDIDATES.

Mr. Deenen has called the five candidates for speaker of the house in conference with himself. According to the wild theories that have been advanced to the effect that the governor-elect would dictate who should be the speaker, the logic of this conference would be that he intends to tell four of the candidates that he does not want either one of them to be elected and therefore they cannot be elected and might as well retire. This would not be a promising way to start in a popular and successful career as governor. Those who know Deenen know he would not be guilty of any such political folly and they also know he never intended to interfere with the aspirations of any republican to be the speaker.

THE STAFF COLONELS.

The attention of Gov.-elect Deenen has several times been called to the fact that there is such an organization as the governor's staff, consisting of a choice lot of colonels with brilliant and costly uniforms. It seems that in the arrangements for inauguration day these colonels have not been considered—have been overlooked regardless of the fact that the gold lace and trappings are glorious creations for just such occasions. It is also being told that the new governor will have no staff of colonels and it is reported that, in reply to a inquiry as to the truth of that statement, he replied that he had not considered the matter at all, and would not take it up until weightier affairs were disposed of.

This is the first instance that the governor-elect has shown signs of going wrong. The idea that there could be more weightier affairs demanding his attention than this corps of staff colonels is one brand of patriotism and our idea of real glory. Does the governor know what this corps of staff colonels is? He may have been so busy in the state's attorney's office in Cook county the last eight years that he has never had an opportunity to see them in the column in uniform where they serve the state, presumably as a guard to protect the body of the governor and push him along in the procession. If he had ever seen this spectacle he could not manifest the indifference that it is said he does.

The governor-elect may not have been told that a governor-staff-colonel is a thing of beauty and a joy forever—the most bedazzling and fancy creation since the days when Solomon, arrayed in all his glory, brought the flush of youth to the cheeks of the dames of Jerusalem and the Sheban queen. Governor-elect Deenen, the staff colonel. Behold him. First of all a man of perfect form, presumably encased in a suit of union undergarment. Upon this model is fitted by the expert tailor a gold buttoned uniform covered by a network of gold lace and cord and tassels that even a Jap could not penetrate—a gold mounted belt from which is suspended a golden hilted Janusian blade and scabbard; a head gear with a plume that would arouse the jealousy of Julius Caesar were he alive; bore with spurs that clank defiance to any one who entertains a desire to harm the governor. This is the colonel as he is made. But he is not intended to be a demonstration on foot. The real enthusiasm for him does not break its bonds until he is mounted. It is then that all the people of Illinois are proud of the governor-staff-colonel.

Surely Mr. Deenen has never fully analyzed the staff-colonel or he would show more interest in him. Does he suppose he can conduct an administration satisfactory to the people without him? Don't try it, governor. You might as well undertake to be successful by joining a T.C. club. What would the governor amount to at the inauguration ceremonies at Washington without this staff of colonels? They have attended two presidential inaugurations and become notorious as account of their splendid horsemanship and brilliant uniforms. Illinois cannot afford not to have the colonels at the next inaugural. The incoming president is a rough rider himself. His contact with the animal inspires it. So it is with an Illinois staff colonel. The entrancing splendor and smell of his uniform transforms even a dull plow horse into a prancing steed contesting with the colonel as to which direction the procession ought to move. But the Illinois staff colonel always has his way. At the inauguration of McKinley in 1897 one of the colonels and his horse had a debate of this kind in front of the Shureham hotel. The colonel was using a curb bit and when the horse was posing on his hind legs the colonel pulled him over on his back. Of course the colonel was severely injured, but the fool horse was greatly humiliated. Among military men this was looked upon as a rare accomplishment.

Governor-elect Deenen will be at the inauguration of President Roosevelt and Illinois must have the staff colonels as an inspiration to the people of the nation. The people must not be denied the satisfaction in looking down the line on Pennsylvania avenue, of beholding the white plumes of the governor's colonels holding up and down in space as apparently dashing like the crest of the waves of the sea, against each other in a storm; or, to be more exact, to behold with ecstasy that the graying white plumes of the governor's colonels in the line of march like the white plume of Henry of Navarre, indicated where the bottle to keep the saddle makes the forest. Surely Governor-elect Deenen does not fully appreciate the value of the modern Illinois governor's staff colonels.

More Stoucal Than Red Indians.

No red Indians were ever more cautious in pain than the aborigines of Australia. In their tribal feuds, which still occur frequently, the severest wounds are treated with indifference. Old Australian settlers are fond of telling a famous story of a tribal chief who walked 60 miles with a spear sticking clear through his body before he could get help to pull it out. They insist that the story is true.

ABSOLUTE CURES!

TO BE WELL AND STRONG IS THE HEIGHT OF EVERY MAN'S AMBITION.

Diseases of the kidneys and bladder, stomach and bowels, constipation and all ailments positively cured to stay cured.

KIDNEY DISEASES.

Diseases of the kidneys are much more prevalent than is generally supposed. Modern city life compels many of us to throw more work upon our kidneys than they are able to perform. Poisons that should be eliminated by the kidneys are carried by the blood throughout the whole system. If you are troubled with dizziness, faintness, palpitation of the heart or tenderness over the bowels, your kidneys are very likely affected, and if neglected, death will result from the effects of it sooner or later. I can determine the exact condition of your kidneys by laboratory tests, and my treatment produces an absolute cure.

Constipation.

Constipation is another trouble that is very much neglected. Its injurious effects are sometimes scarcely noticeable at first, but they are bound to undermine the health in time. This trouble should be attended to. My method of treatment always produces a permanent cure and restores the patient to that healthy condition intended by nature.

Consultation free and confidential. I examine all patients and direct all treatment personally. If impossible to call write fully about your trouble.

Stomach Troubles.

Probably nine of every ten persons are more or less troubled with some disarrangement of the stomach or bowels. While these troubles are not always serious, they will become so in time if neglected. No matter what your stomach trouble is I can cure you. I have made these diseases a lifetime study and I guarantee an entire cure in every instance. My treatment will put you in a condition where you can eat anything that is set before you. You will enjoy your food and have no further fear about your digestion. Varicose Cured Without Pain or Detection From Business.

Varicose is a very common disease of men, and it is a very serious one, not only because of the pain and discomfort caused by the swelling of the veins, but because it hinders the circulation poisons the blood and nerves and causes loss of the power of the body and mind. The use of the knife is dangerous and unnecessary. I cure the disease forever without any operation. Do not waste time and money on worthless experiments. Come and learn how you can certainly be cured.

Nervous Debility.

The insidious nature of nervous debility tends to gradually involve all the powers of the body and mind make it necessary that each case shall be carefully studied. That is why I invite all who suffer from any kind of nervous weakness to call and have me make a thorough investigation. I have been able to save countless sufferers from becoming physical and mental wrecks, and my advice is free to you.

I CURE DISEASES PECULIAR TO WOMEN WITHOUT THE KNIFE. I CURE ALL CHRONIC DISEASES, DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS, AND BOWELS, RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, AND ALL CHRONIC NERVOUS AND PRIVATE DISEASES. FREE CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION.

MY GUARANTEE.

NO FEE TILL CURED. If you have the least doubt of my ability to restore you to health, and wish to try my method of treatment, you may deposit the fee for a cure in any DECATUR BANK—not to be paid till a cure is effected. PATIENTS, IF THEY PREFER, MAY PAY IN EASY MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS.

CLINTON.

Edna C. Walters, of Clinton, through her attorneys, Herrick & Herrick, Fred C. Hill and E. B. Mitchell, has filed in the circuit court a suit against Nellie Walters, asking damages to the amount of $5,000. She charges the defendant with alienating the affections of her husband, Albert Walters. At the March term of court in 1902 the plaintiff was granted a divorce from Albert Walters and was also awarded the custody of the children and a share in the estate. Subsequent to the divorce proceedings Mr. Walters married Mrs. Nellie Green of Leroy, who is now made defendant to the above suit.

The hog case of Darius Walters vs. Albert Stacey, which has been twice tried in the circuit court here and resulted in a verdict for the defendant, will be taken to the appellate court. The case came here from West township, where Stacey in 1893 borrowed a fine boar from Mascal Dookum. This boar escaped from Stacey's farm and going to Walters' place was kept in a cage with other boars which were killed. It is charged that Walters shot and killed Stacey's boar. Walters is now suing for $1,500 damages for the boar killed in the fight. The case is now pending in the circuit court.

A. L. Ide & Sons, through their attorneys, Conkling & Irwin and Jack & Jack of Decatur, have filed in the circuit court a suit in assumpsit against J. M. Randolph, Guy Randolph and H. C. Suttle, partners in the bank of Warrensburg. The suit is to recover $5,000 alleged to be due on a promissory note deposited issued by the bank and signed by A. M. Randolph, cashier.

Among the improvements contemplated for Clinton is the establishment of a paid fire department. It is being understood that an ordinance authorizing a team of horses and a hose wagon to be permanently stationed at the fire house will be shortly presented to the city council for action. The plan also includes about four men to be put on salary and stationed permanently at the engine house. It is claimed by supporters of the movement that the city has grown to such an extent that it is slow and laborious work to reach the outlying district with hand carts and that running to headquarters and pulling a cart at full speed to a fire often leaves the men exhausted and unable to fight the fire.

The week of prayer will be observed in Clinton churches next week, Dec. 27, Monday evening, Dec. 28, Tuesday, Dec. 29, Wednesday, Dec. 30, Thursday, Dec. 31, Presbyterians.

AT THE GRAND.

"Sweet Clover"

Otis B. Thayer and Miss Grace Bondhill will appear at the opera house next week in the new and responsive play, "Sweet Clover," a play that has been tested and found to be fully up to the standard. The play is on the order of a very pretty story of rural life. In the principal character Mr. Thayer is said to offer a fine bit of acting and the support of the star is reported to be perfect in every respect. The company has been playing through the west for some time past and everywhere the play has been given it has been highly commended.

Indoor Circus.

There is to be something new at the opera house next week in the way of amusement. Shipp's indoor circus will open with a matinee performance Monday afternoon and will follow with performance every night during the week. Equestrian acts, tumbling, trapeze work and everything that goes to make up a circus performance will be given. A specially constructed stage is used in the presentation of this attraction. The company has been playing in Springfield and other large neighboring towns and the papers say that it is a good entertainment.

SPRINGLIKE AGAIN.

The mercury got back to the fifty above point again yesterday and the weather was almost as balmy as before the recent cold wave. The change was sufficient to freeze up the ice canals of the city. The weather department at Washington promises fair weather with southwest winds for today and tomorrow.

SOME BETTER.

The Sullivan papers say that Judge Cohen is a release a few days ago, but that he has completely recovered from it and that he is now much better. His improvement is not such, however, that indicates that he will be able to return to the bench for some time.

John Whitehouse of Litchfield Met His Fate at Mt. Olive.

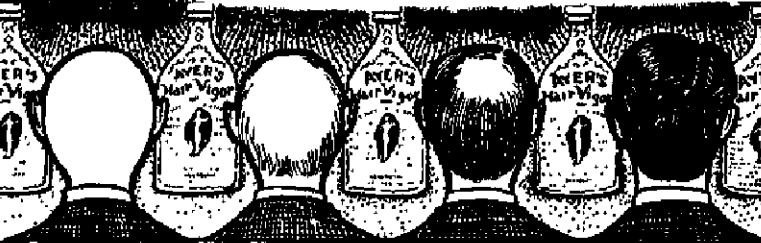

At Mt. Olive last night between 6 and 7 o'clock, a train met John Whitehouse, whose home was in Litchfield, was struck and killed by a Washington freight train, the second section of No. 37. They have been witnessed by hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country. They possess a power no strange doctrine, too wonderful to comprehend, too wonderful to explain, too remarkable to conceive. Their demonstrations of healing the sick are the most glorious and awe inspiring of all triumphs in medical research. The people becoming fully bewildered as they witness the almost instantaneous healing of chronic diseases that have been pronounced incurable and given up by the medical profession. No pen can describe such an exhibition of soul-stirring events. It is worth going miles to see.

Dr. Rossette are without peer in their profession, the acknowledged leaders and exponents of Magnetism in this country, daily regenerating as they do, eight times more of the total fluid than any other magnetist. A power so strong and subtle in its effects that they cure the most difficult and malignant types of chronic diseases, often by a single treatment, which for years have baffled the best medical experts. By their marvelous power and gift of healing, combined with the famous magnetized remedies, they have cured the deaf, blind and lame and all diseases of the throat, lungs, heart, liver, and kidneys, and nervous system, vitalizing and driving all impurities from the blood. They are especially successful in all forms of paralysis, rheumatism, epilepsy, dropsy, diabetes, tumors and cancer, the stomach and womb—surpassing anything ever attempted or conceived of the healing art.

FINLEY BARRELL LETTER.

By Tyler, Harney & Co., 112 East W.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—WHEAT—There has been a tremendous trade in wheat.

The New York market of owners of wheat have been given credit for buying large quantities of wheat, and as well as those at Minneapolis and

St. Louis, that trade here, have quite generally sold. There is a suspicion that some of the large western houses have been dumping wheat.

Liverpool prices were higher and Minneapolis stocks showed first decrease.

May, 50,000 bu. have ever shown this large for the week only 325,000 bu. Durham stocks increased 35,000 bu. for week. Early prices were sharply higher here but all of the advance and more was lost later. Modern Miller said crop was in good condition for winter changes as result of rain melting snow

before last freeze.

CORN—Corn opened higher with

wheat and because of lighter receipts

here and the advance in Liverpool.

There was a large trade early, during which the same house that was credited with selling a great deal of wheat for itself, or for New York, sold corn heavily. Early prices were not maintained. December corn went from a premium of 30 over to a discount of 10. May price of liquidating sales by belated holders. Liverpool's strength was on the falling off in the Argentine shipments. Clearances were large at 21,000 bushels, but here flat and export business nothing. Cash corn here was up 10 early with future and the limited arrivals disposed of.

OATS—Oats ranged higher with

wheat and because of lighter receipts

here and the advance in Liverpool.

strength was on the falling off in the

Argentine shipments. Clearances were deferred until practically the last day of the year on the stock exchange.

The loans made Friday on the stock exchange carry over until Monday, and in this case until Tuesday. Preparations have been making for the large

January first disbursements in the history of Wall street.

The call loan rate has been apathetic up to today and the maximum rate touched today was 5 per cent. Meantime the usual estimate by bankers indicate the inflow of currency by express has been sufficient on the balance to offset sub-treasury absorption and leave the margin of gain of upwards of $4,000,-

000. Changes to be shown in loan statements of tomorrow's bank statement are likely of course to be large, owing to the annual settlements. But a large influx of cash is looked for in the next few weeks. The steady uplift of prices has developed little inclination to sell stocks up to today and yesterday has been little appearance of trading for a turn in operations in the market. The increased animation of the market yesterday and the early market today was rather distinctly of this character and was accompanied by more or less obvious manipulation. Amalgamated copper displayed rather acutely the reactionary effect of speculative operations which caused its wide advance of yesterday. Selling was not explained by a premium of 30 over to a discount of

BOM PUT UP FIGHT

Harried Tinware at Turnkey Braden and Offered Desperate Resistance

TO BEING LOCKED UP

Made Things Lively in Jail For a Short Time.

A murderous assault was made upon Turnkey Charles Braden at the county jail last night by a prisoner who attempted to go behind the bars and who attempted to effect a jail delivery. Braden was nearly overpowered but he and Policeman Thomas Richardson came to the assistance of Braden, finally subduing the man. It was twice necessary to choke the prisoner nearly into insensibility before he could be put in a cell.

Few hours out. The two men who made the trouble were named Smith and Thompson. They have been serving a term on the rock pile and were just released Friday afternoon. The first thing they did was to get drunk. During the evening Policeman Richardson had several complaints about the two men and he finally found them and took them to police headquarters.

When searched the men refused to give their names and Smith showed fight and was hard to handle, but the officers gave him a little rough handling and he soon quieted down. While the police headquarters Thompson attempted to fight, but waited till he got to jail.

Threw Tinware. Both the prisoners were put in the corridor of the jail and were told to go back behind the bars. Smith obeyed but Thompson refused and started in to abuse the officers and used all kinds of disgusting language. Policeman Richardson followed. On a table in one corner there is a pile of tinware, pans and coffee pots, which are used to feed the prisoners. These pans and coffee pots made excellent weapons for the prisoner and he was quick to see his opportunity. He opened up a rapid fire battery of tinware on the two officers and for a time there were things doing in the air.

Braden Made a Charge. Braden made a charge on the prisoners and they grappled and Thompson, like a demon, Braden was a match for the man and Policeman Richardson followed. Braden was temporarily overpowered. Thompson wanted to get out and he was drunk and mad and he put up a desperate fight.

Made a Second Assault. Thompson was taken to the back part of the jail and then he again started on Braden. He fought more desperately than ever. Thompson got Braden down on the floor and practically had him in his power when Braden again took a hand and applied the choke. Braden was choked until he was in the face and was about all in. Without giving him another chance the officers took him to the back part of the jail and locked him in a dark cell which is used for insane people.

Smith's struggle in police headquarters seemed to satisfy him and he did not take any hand in the fight. Thompson started in the jail.

Miss Mae Belle Wilson won the prize, which was a picture of Miss Payne. This was followed by a Christmas story, which was brilliantly lighted with candles. Each of the guests received a present, which was of a humorous nature.

The house was beautifully decorated in the Christmas decorations of holly ropes and evergreen and presented a most beautiful picture. Delightful refreshments were served and the evening was a most successful one. The guests were: Mrs. W. E. Bell, Mrs. Milton Johnson, Jr., and Miss Grace Reilly. READ AN ORDINANCE

Chamber of Commerce Heard the Interurban Franchise.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directory last night developed nothing of special importance that the members were ready to talk about. The ordinance which grants to the interurban company a fifty instead of a thirty-five year franchise, was read. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to lend its good offices to securing the passage of the new franchise ordinance. The ordinance was read at the meeting of the council Monday night and the directors wished to hear it read and learn that it was word for word with the existing ordinance except as to the length of the term, before they could say that they were in favor of the ordinance.

DULL IN POULTRY.

There is very little poultry stock moving in the city and from now on things will be rather slack. The business is made the more dull by the poor condition of the roads. There will be practically no change in the prices of poultry until the middle of January. At this time it is thought that the majority of the fowls will be on the market and the price will advance accordingly.

FORTY-NINER'S HOLD REUNION

Mueller's Men Met and Took in a Few New Members.

SAMPLE PACKAGES

Served to Show Others What They Had Escaped.

The "Forty-nine Club" of the H. Mueller Manufacturing company celebrated its fourth anniversary last night with a banquet at the factory. The annual meeting of the club was first held in a room which had been partitioned off from the factory. Eleven candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the secret order. Since there was such a large number it was decided to let the members draw straws to see which should take the work and that for the rest of the evening. The candidates were given all they had coming and the members were kept in continuous laughter from the start to the finish. The initiation ceremony was funny from first to last and was carried out in fine form.

A SHOWER OF HONORS

Game to Circuit Clerk Allen at the State Meeting at Joliet.

Circuit Clerk John Allen returned home from Joliet where he went to attend the meeting of the circuit clerks and recorders of Illinois. The meeting was largely attended and was an interesting one for those who are holders of the circuit clerk and recorder of the work was discussed.

Mr. Allen was again elected secretary of the organization. His election was unanimous. The Masonic fraternity was also further honored.

He was given a handsome Masonic watch chain, on one side of which was the inscription, "Presented to John Allen, Circuit Clerk of Illinois, 1904." Mr. Allen was also given a seal on which was a similar inscription.

The ever-present Mueller quartet were also present and took a prominent part in the proceedings. It was composed of Al and Carl Freeman, L. H. Bailey and Carl Healy. During the banquet they sang and could not be repressed.

San Jose Scale Inspection.

State Entomologist Forbes made his report of nursery inspection at the Bloomingdale meeting of Illinois Horticulturists. He had inspected 223 nurseries during the year. Fifty-five of these dealt only in small fruits. The inspection charges averaged $3.59 per acre. Out of 333 orchards inspected 227 were found infested with San Jose scale. The pest was found in most of the hedges and town lots inspected. Spraying was given to 134 orchards, 55 town lots and 121 lines of hedge in 24 different localities. Excepting in a few localities all known infested property has been treated and the San Jose scale brought under easy control of the owners and a corps of inspectors are at work in the field.

Prof. Forbes has been markedly successful in fighting this dangerous pest, but cannot do much more at state expense for private parties. However, he will give full directions for the spraying and send an assistant to begin the work in any community where a number of citizens ask for such aid.

THE DUNSTON DIVORCE CASE

Wife Files Bill in Circuit Court But Papers Not Obtainable.

WILL BE CONTESTED

Light Docket for The January Term of Court.

Mrs. Nell Dunston, formerly Miss Nell Schroeder, has started suit for a divorce from her husband, George Dunston, extreme and repeated cruelty on the part of the husband is charged. Mrs. Dunston also asks for the custody of the child and it is understood that the suit will be contested in court.

The bill was filed late Friday evening. The attorneys for Mrs. Dunston are Hugh Cren and Hugh Housman. The bills were taken out from the clerk's office immediately after the filing of the suit and the particulars, therefore, were not available. It is understood, however, that the suit is brought for divorce and the cruelty grounds and also for the custody of the child.

Only a few weeks ago there was a good deal of sensation about the child, Cat Dunston, secured possession of the little one and ran to Lincoln square and disappeared in a delivery wagon with the baby. Nothing further was heard of the child until the divorce suit was filed.

When the case comes up for trial it is understood that it will be contested at every step and the legal contest will attract much attention.

Light Docket.

The dockets for the January term of the circuit court will be the lightest known in the county for fifteen years. Friday was the last day of service for the circuit court and the dockets for the next term will be light. While over a dozen cases were filed last week the total number for the term will be nothing like what it usually is. There are only six criminal cases in the docket and all these will probably not be over sixty-five common law cases for the term. Below are given the suits which were filed Friday.

Against Coal Company.

William Powers has started suit for $5,000 damages against the M. & C. Coal company. Powers was employed in the mine and was injured and claimed that the company was responsible. The plaintiff claims that he was struck by a coal car and that there was no way for him to escape. He claims that the company should have provided a place of protection near the door. Powers consequently wants damages all the sum of $5,000.

Keep in This Court.

Samuel Deitz has started a suit against the Standard Oil company for $3,500. It is a damage suit and was started once before. Deitz claims that he fell and was injured while working for the company and that the company was responsible. The suit was taken to the federal court but was dismissed. This time the amount of damages is made $1,500 less than $3,000 so it cannot be taken to the federal court.

For Commission.

Brantlett & Lewis has started suit against John Beagles for $200 claimed to be due for commission for selling some real estate.

Walter H. Mills ex parte is the title of a suit filed in the circuit court for the purpose of settling some of the real estate of the late R. R. Mills.

Amelia Schwaigler has started suit against Frank Swartz. It is a chancery suit.

To Recover Insurance.

George A. Kenney has started suit for $500 against the North American Accident Insurance company. It is a suit to recover on a life insurance policy.

Against City.

Samuel McBurney started suit against the city of Decatur and others for $10,000. Only the principle was filed.

The plaintiff claims that he fell over a fence which obstructed a sidewalk and seriously injured his hip.

William H. Miller has started a suit for divorce from his wife, Anna B. Miller. The charge is infidelity.

Minnie P. Roark has started a suit for divorce from her husband, Henry W. Roark. The charge is cruelty.

The case of the people against Edward Funk was also appealed by the defendant. He was fined in Justice O'Mara's court $100 as costs for selling colored women in the city.

THE FUTURE OF YATES.

Suspicion That He Will Engage in the Newspaper Business.

The Peoria Journal Tuesday evening published the following special "Examiner" speculating upon the new ownership of the Springfield Daily News, the only afternoon paper in the capital city, and at one time the official organ of Senator Gibson. It is reported that the purchase price was $50,000, and it is guessed that Governor Yates is the owner. J. McCann, who is the nominal proprietor, Mr. Davis resigned his place as secretary of the state board of arbitration at a salary of $2,500 a year to take charge of the News, and the circumstances have puzzled the gossip.

"Governor Yates' personal friends say that he will not accept a job under the Deussen administration, but will open an office in Springfield and will devote his time to personal affairs. In this connection it is denied that the outgoing executive will resume the practice of law which denied and in the mystery as to the governor's program."

He will be able to pull through but it is considered that he will be unable to consider his condition otherwise than as a serious one. FACTS OF PAPER-MAKING.

Strip 144 Feet Wide and 150 Miles Long in a Day.

The new paper-making machines which make the modern magazine possible are wonderful. They turn out 100,000 worth of paper a year. They burn up 4,000,000 tons of coal yearly, and shred 2,500,000 cords of wood into pulp. About 12,500,000 trees are cut down to feed these paper-making machines. They are about 100 feet long and 150 miles long—long enough to put a man around the world in thirty months, declares the Woman's Home Journal.

There are, all told, 1,100 paper mills in the United States, producing $200,000,000 worth of paper a year. They burn up 4,000,000 tons of coal yearly, and shred 2,500,000 cords of wood into pulp. About 12,500,000 trees are cut down to feed these paper-making machines. They are about 100 feet long and 150 miles long—long enough to put a man around the world in thirty months, declares the Woman's Home Journal.

One month's issue of the Woman's Home Journal requires as many trees as there are on a good-sized farm. If you tear off the cover of this paper, and put it under a strong microscope, you will notice the little splinters of wood of which all paper is made.
